RUSSIANS TAKE JAROSLAW BY STORM

THIRTEEN HUNDRED DIED WHEN CRUISERS SANK TO BOTTOM IN NORTH SEA

British Men-of-War Sank in Few Minutes
After Being Torpedoed But Displayed
Excellent Marksmanship Before Being Struck—Harwich Hospitals Are Full.

Harwich, Eng., Sept. 23, via London.—Survivors to the number of 110 from the British cruisers Aboukir, Cressy and Hogue, torpedoed and sunk by German submarines, arrived here last night and at Parkstone, three miles west. Thirty were officers and the others seamen, and all bore evidence of the trial through which they had passed.

According to estimates obtained from the survivors, about 700 men in all crews, approximating 2,000 men, were saved when disaster overtook their ships.

Hospitals at Harwich Are Full.

The Great Eastern hotel in Harwich, converted early in the war into an army hospital, is filled to-day with men from the British navy. Its cots are crowded with survivors of the three British cruisers.

Across the bay from the hotel is the regular Shotley naval hospital, where more wounded from these cruisers are being taken. The hotel is being used for those who are suffering from shock and exposure. Many of these men could be seen this morning clad in all sorts of nondescript garments, from hospital uniforms to mismatched pyjamas.

Aboukir Sustained Heaviest Loss.

The admiralty has informed as many relatives as possible of the names of the survivors at Harwich, and several relatives catching early trains, arrived before the patients had breakfast. Among them was the father of a brave midshipman on the Aboukir, hurled from each ship in turn as it was struck by the German torpedoes. This boy, scarcely in his teens, greeted his father with pathetic cheerfulness.

According to the stories told by the survivors, the loss of life was heaviest on the Aboukir. This vessel was not expecting attack and many members of her crew were below.

Ymuiden, Holland, via London, Sept. 23.—This little seaport town is excited over the landing here of 257 survivors from the British cruisers sunk in the North sea by German submarines. The men were brought here by the Dutch steamer Flora, which happened to be in the vicinity when the disaster overtook the British warships.

The streets are crowded in the vicinity of the hotels where the survivors are staying and around the hospital where 20 wounded are being cared for by the Dutch Red Cross. The crews of all three of the sunken warships were composed largely of naval reservists. The Aboukir was the first ship struck. About six o'clock in the morning she received three torpedoes and the explosion blew out a big section of the bottom of the bow, capsizing the ship. This crew had no time to launch lifeboats and tried to save themselves by jumping in the water. The boat was out of sight beneath the waves within three or four minutes after the explosion.

The cruiser Hogue, nearby, heard the explosion and launched lifeboats and began to save the swimming survivors, but while this was going on the Hogue herself was torpedoed, apparently exactly as the previous ship, three shots reaching her hull, according to survivors. The Hogue sank in a few minutes but the greater part of her crew were saved in their boats.

The cruiser Cressy at this point discovered the presence of two German submarines on the way to attack her and began shelling them with heavy projectiles. The Cressy's marksmanship was excellent and both submarines were demolished, according to survivors.

This statement, however, is not confirmed from official sources. Meanwhile from the other side the Cressy was torpedoed in two places and sank immediately.

When the attack occurred the cruisers were steaming in a line ahead, three miles apart. The presence of the submarines was unsuspected until two of them were sighted by the Cressy.

No other ships were in sight at the opening of the attack, but the Dutch steamer Flora came into view on the horizon just after the Hogue sank. The captain of the Flora signalled the Cressy and was about to steam on his way when he saw the Cressy suddenly keel over and go down. He immediately steamed toward the scene and lowered his boats. It was then for the first time that he understood that three cruisers in all had been sunk.

He picked up many sailors clinging to spars and pieces of wood. Among the survivors is the captain of the Hogue. The captain of the Flora says that several British sailing boats are coming to Ymuiden with more survivors.

From the conflicting accounts given by the survivors here, it seems that

CATTARO FORTS TO BE BOMBARDED BY BIG FRENCH GUNS

Bordeaux, Sept. 23.—The minister of marine announced to-day that a French fleet has landed heavy guns and a detachment of gunners at Antivari, Montenegro. The guns will be mounted on Mount Lovchen, whence they will open an energetic bombardment on the forts and harbor of Cattaro, in Dalmatia. The forts at the mouth of Cattaro harbor were destroyed some days ago by a bombardment carried out under the direction of Admiral de la Peyrere.

RUSSIAN CAPTURES IN GALICIA ARE REPORTED

Przemysl Fort Not Prepared for Siege; German Columns Retreating.

Paris, Sept. 23.—A Havas Agency dispatch from Petrograd says that the army journal published the following list of Russian captures in Galicia from August 19 to September 14. Seven flags, 637 guns, of which 38 bore the initials of Emperor William; 44 machine guns, 823 cases of ammunition, 1 general, 435 officers and 63,531 soldiers.

London, Sept. 23.—A Petrograd special to the Reuter company says that the railways leading to Przemysl are in the hands of the Russians and that the Austrians are falling back behind the forts of the last named. Intercepted reports, the dispatch declares, show that Przemysl is not prepared for a siege.

In Eastern Prussia, according to the same dispatch, the Russians are falling back in perfect order, taking with them all their stores and wounded. What they are unable to take they are burning. The Russian government has decided to profit by the presence of the enormous number of prisoners to put into execution several large plans for canal construction and other public works.

A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company from Petrograd says that German columns, which in considerable strength crossed the Russian frontier at Mlawka September 20, have retreated northward.

It is reported, says the correspondent, that the German troops in the fortified positions on the left bank of the Vistula, on the frontier between Thorn and Kalisz, have received large reinforcements. The valley of the river San contains immense quantities of valuable booty taken by the Russians.

DUNCAN AND GANGES CADETS SAW ACTION

Ten Canadians Were on Berwick and Had Part in Sinking the Spreewall.

Ottawa, Sept. 23.—Ten Canadians, including two British Columbians, took part in their first naval action when the British cruiser Berwick sank the armed cruiser Spreewall in the north Atlantic. W. J. R. Beach, of Ganges, Salt Spring Island, B. C., and R. W. Wood, of Duncan, B. C., two naval cadets who passed their examinations at the Royal military college at Halifax, were on the Berwick and took part in the action.

VALCARTIER OFFICERS COMING FOR RECRUITS

Toronto, Sept. 23.—A dozen officers, chosen from men at Valcartier, passed through the city last night on their way to Western Canada to recruit men for the second contingent. These officers were on their way to points from Winnipeg to Victoria. Sergeant Armstrong, of Red Deer, says that they would try to gather as many men as possible during the next few weeks to make up the 19,000 for the second contingent.

CENSORSHIP OF WIRES IN CANADA PROBABLE

Ottawa, Sept. 23.—It is understood that an order-in-council will shortly be passed by the government giving the Dominion authorities more control over telegraph and telephone lines while the war continues. Just what measures of control will be assumed is not known, but it is believed that the powers of the board of censors established at the outbreak of the war will be considerably enlarged.

MONTENEGRIN GUNS TO BOMBARD CATTARO FORT

Rome, via Paris, Sept. 23.—News received here from Cetinje says that within this week the Montenegrins expect to have on top of Mount Lovchen long-range cannon capable of dismantling the forts at Cattaro and with which they can bombard the Austrian ships, thus allowing the Anglo-French fleet to capture the stronghold.

DEAD FOR MILES IN TRENCHES IN FRANCE

French Never Wavered in Driving Germans Back Beyond St. Quentin

METHODICAL BATTLE ON THE AISNE AND WOEVRE

Time Fights With Allies Whose Reinforcements Are Increasing Daily

London, Sept. 23.—The correspondent of the daily Mail, under date of Sunday and from an unnamed place, sends a report that the German right has been turned between Peronne and St. Quentin. He also tells of the arrival of wounded who bring stories that there are nine miles of dead in the trenches between the two towns named, and continues: "Peronne was evacuated by the Germans four days ago. They occupied a strong position with hills behind and marshes in front. The French received orders to take the position at all costs, the reason of this order being that if the Germans were driven from here they would be enveloped by the outspreading French left wing.

"At first the trenches were combed out by artillery fire, but the Germans still held on and their guns on the heights behind were doing execution among the French. Then it was decided to storm the position.

"Across the marsh, in the half light before dawn the French troops advanced in a number of narrow columns. They suffered badly, but never wavered. The Germans waited for them in the trenches and there was a fierce, deadly struggle, breast to breast. The French had the advantage of dash and vigor and they stabbed and stabbed until their arms ached. Their losses were heavy, but they gained their point and the Germans fell back to St. Quentin.

"The French were reinforced and pursued the Germans hotly into the suburbs of the town. There was savage fighting in the streets, but yard by yard they were driven back until they received orders to abandon the town. I hear that they are now making an effort to retake Peronne."

The correspondent of the Times at Bordeaux has this to say of the big battle that is being waged in France: "The battle from the Aisne to the Woevre progressed slowly but methodically in favor of the allies. Both sides have been engaged the last few days in sending reinforcements and assembling new forces on the firing line. As the reinforcements reached the front the activity of both armies in the Aisne district on the right of the allies' position increased.

"The prediction of the staff on both sides for decisive action on the allied left must not divert attention from the allies' right, which in the present battle constitutes an all-important bulwark.

"Operations in Woevre have been more or less at a standstill for some days, as the guns were stuck fast in the clay. Now the armies are again moving and the Germans are desperately attempting to break the strong defences of the Meuse heights to paralyze the allies' plans in the centre.

"The plains of the Woevre, the scene of present effort, were made for a battle, and the Meuse heights, with their steep escarpment, and strengthened by forts, form a barrier of prodigious strength. The northern Woevre lakes lie among green forests, and a range of steep hills, crowned with forests, rise amidst this country.

"The enemy is making desperate efforts to dislodge the French forces from this natural fortress, which commands an immense sweep of country. In the distance are the heights of Pont-aux-Francaises and the old battlefields of Gravelotte and St. Privat. The enemy attacked, without success, the right along the Meuse, on the heights from Thesanyux to Hericourt.

"Time fights on the side of the allies, whose forces are growing daily from the ends of the earth."

CAPT. BERNARD HARVEY WAS ABOARD CRESSY

St. John, N. B., Sept. 23.—Capt. Bernard Harvey, son-in-law of Lieut.-Governor Wood, was on board the cruiser Cressy. No official word has yet been received as to his safety or otherwise. Captain Harvey was formerly in the Canadian naval service, and was married four years ago to Miss Hester Wood, youngest daughter of the lieutenant-governor. They have one child, a boy of three years. The Cressy was known to have been in port some weeks ago with prisoners but after undergoing repairs had rejoined the fleet, evidently

BELGIANS IN SORTIE FROM ANTWERP FIRE VOLLEYS AT GERMANS

London, Sept. 23.—The Telegraph's correspondent with the Belgian army, under date of Tuesday, says: "The Belgian army emerged from the ramparts of Antwerp to-day in a sortie against the German army based on Brussels. The advance guard exchanged shots with the German outposts on the road, 15 miles from the capital.

BRITISH AVIATORS DROP BOMBS UPON AVIATION HANGARS

Antwerp, via London, Sept. 23.—A successful raid by a squadron of five British aviators on the German aviation camp at Bickendorf, near Cologne, is reported by the Handelsblatt. Bickendorf is the centre of the Zeppelin air craft, and according to the story the British, from a height of 1500 feet, dropped bombs that set fire to the hangars. Four of the aviators returned to a point of their departure while the fifth was obliged to descend owing to engine trouble. He succeeded, however, in landing in Belgium.

BELGIUM LOOKING TO CANADA FOR SUPPLIES

Toronto, Sept. 23.—To meet necessities of acute shortage of food this winter, the Belgian government is casting its eyes to Canada to see what chances exist of securing supply from this source. To this end the Belgian general and representatives of the Belgian government are to confer with Hon. James S. Duff, minister of agriculture, to-day to see if it is possible to rely on Ontario for a certain quantity of foodstuffs. He will go west immediately after the conference here.

M'GILL CANDIDATES ARE ASSIGNED TO SERVICE

London, Sept. 23.—The war office announces that the three candidates nominated by McGill University for commissions in the regular army will be attached to the following branches of service: J. A. Lynch, Royal Field Artillery; M. D. McFarlane, Infantry; and C. A. P. Murison, Royal Field Artillery.

SERVIANS RECAPTURE LIUBOVIA IN BOSNIA

London, Sept. 23.—A dispatch to the Reuter Telegram company says that Serbian troops have recaptured Liubovia after violent fighting in which the losses were heavy on both sides. Further to the left the Servians have occupied Srebrenya, ten miles southwest of Liubovia, in Bosnia province.

FORTIFIED TOWN IS KEY TO CRACOW AND BRESLAW TERRITORY

Retreating Austrians Hotly Pursued by Victorious Army—Russia Making Preparations for Another Attack on Konigsberg.

French Official Report Announces Advance of Western Wing and the Repulse of Germans on the Eastern End of Line.

London, Sept. 23.—The fall of Jaroslaw the Austrian fortified position in Galicia, is regarded here as the most decisive stroke announced from the continental battlefields in the last twenty-four hours. The Russian occupation of this important fortified railroad centre is considered in London as likely to have a greater effect on events in the western arena of the war than anything reported from France for several days past.

The Russian army, which took Jaroslaw by storm, is in hot pursuit of the Austrians, who are reported to be retreating on Cracow. As Przemysl is now isolated, it seems probable that the Russians will be content to mask this fortress while they push on to Cracow, with a view of joining up their forces preparatory to a march in the direction of Breslau.

Further north the Russians, according to information reaching London, have resumed the offensive against the Germans in East Prussia, and they are reported as again preparing to attack Konigsberg, the ancestral home of the kings of Prussia.

Allied Armies Maintaining Positions.

Paris, Sept. 23.—According to official announcement given out in Paris this afternoon, the allies after severe fighting advanced on their western wing. They also repulsed German attacks on their eastern wing. The announcement is as follows:

"First, on our left wing, on the right bank of the river Oise, we have advanced in the region of Lassigny, where there have been violent encounters with the enemy. On the left bank of the Oise and to the north of the river Aisne the situation is unchanged.

Germans Remain on Defensive.

"Second, on the centre between Rheims and the river Meuse there has been no change of importance. In the Woevre district, to the northeast of Verdun, and in the direction of Mouilly and Dompierre, the enemy undertook violent attacks which were, however, repulsed. In the southern part of the Woevre district the enemy holds a line from Richcourt to Siecherey to Lironville, from which he has not issued.

"Third, on our right wing, in Lorraine and the Vosges, the Germans have evacuated Nemeny and Arracourt, and have shown little activity in the country around Dornum.

"The capture by the Russians of the fortress of Jaroslaw in Galicia is announced."

Amiens Now French Military Centre Reinforcements Sent Through Town

London, Sept. 23.—The Amiens correspondent of the Times telegraphs that heavy fighting is in progress north of Amiens, and that the German lines have been extended north from Cambrai, which has been occupied in force.

"We learned to-day that a great battle had been begun, and it was rumored that the German troops had advanced as far as Montdidier. Every road out of Amiens was barred by pickets, no vehicles being allowed to pass without military authority.

ROGATITZA OCCUPIED.

London, Sept. 23.—A dispatch to the Reuter company from Cetinje says that the Montenegrins yesterday occupied Rogatitza about ten miles from Sarajevo.

GUERRILLA LEADER SHOT.

Naco, Sonora, Mex., Sept. 23.—Cayetano Montenegro, the guerrilla leader, who entered Agua Prieta in disguise several days ago and was captured, was publicly executed here to-day. A large assemblage saw the guerrilla face a firing squad before a blank wall.

WOMEN'S HOSPITAL IN LONDON FOR SOLDIERS

Authorities Have All the Hospital Ships They Need but Advise Shore Building

London, Sept. 23.—A high official of the admiralty who last night denied the reported friction in connection with the Canadian Women's hospital, explained the position this afternoon.

"We received, through His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught, some time ago," he said, "an offer of an hospital ship which the Canadian women would provide and maintain. In reply we pointed out that we had then sufficient hospital ships but would gladly welcome the £20,000 which it was proposed to raise towards establishing a hospital to be known as the Canadian Women's hospital at the side of the government hospital at Portsmouth."

"We later received another telegram from the Duke of Connaught, stating that the Canadian women were willing for the money to be allocated for either naval or military purposes. We thereupon suggested a Canadian hospital, which suggestion was accepted, and we are now waiting for the Canadian women to take the initiative in the matter."

"We have never placed any difficulties, as apparently suggested, in the way, but have taken such preliminary steps as might help them. We have surveyed the suitable ground and had plans prepared which are at the disposal of the Canadian women's representatives, should they decide to build the hospital themselves. If they desire that we should build for them we shall be very pleased to do so."

The official estimate is that the cost of building the hospital will be £3,000, and that £100 amounts would amply cover the cost of maintenance.

Incidentally the admiralty official suggested that although the occasion had not yet arisen it would be a good plan for the Canadian women to be represented in the matter of this side.

SPREEWALD CAPTURED BY CRUISER BERWICK

London, Sept. 23.—The Hamburg-American line steamer Spreewald has been captured by the British cruiser Berwick in the North Atlantic ocean, according to an announcement made by the admiralty.

It was stated also that two colliers had been captured.

The Spreewald was fitted out as an armed cruiser. The two colliers carried 2,000 tons of coal and 150 tons of provisions for the German cruisers in Atlantic waters.

The Berwick is commanded by Capt. Lewis G. Baker.

The Spreewald is a steamer of 2,214 tons. She was last reported as having sailed from Antwerp on July 12, for the West Indies, and to have arrived at St. Thomas, D. W. I., on August 4.

BELTS AND SOCKS ARE NEEDED FOR SOLDIERS

London, Sept. 23.—Belts and socks are the prime need of the British expeditionary army, and every woman in the empire was asked yesterday to do her share to supply this demand.

With the approach of winter 300,000 pairs of socks and an equal number of belts, knitted or woven, according to the war office estimate, should be supplied to supplement the regular provision of the government.

Queen Mary was notified of this, and promised to do her part. She then appealed to British women to aid her.

MOUNTED REGIMENT IN PROVINCE AUTHORIZED

James MacDonell Gets Permission to Carry Out Plans for Service Corps

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 23.—Colonel Sam Hughes, minister of militia, has authorized Colonel James MacDonell, of Vancouver, to raise a mounted corps in British Columbia for service at the front. It will take some days to arrange details but as soon as these are completed recruiting will begin.

This corps will consist of nothing but expert riders and crack shots and will be largely recruited in the interior of British Columbia. Already Colonel MacDonell has received many applications for enlistment, each man undertaking to furnish his own horse.

Many of the applications are from Idaho and Montana cowboys and roughriders. The equipment for the regiment will be provided for by private subscriptions, mostly from citizens of British Columbia. The regiment will be equipped with machine guns, which have been already donated by a prominent citizen of Vancouver. It is expected that the regiment will be ready for service in a very short time.

TRIED TO KEEP PEACE EMPEROR SAYS

Salutes Prince Oscar and Remembers Duke of Cumberland's Birthday

London, Sept. 23.—Emperor William, after reviewing the Imperial grenadiers commanded by his son, Prince Oscar, following the battle of Verdun, spoke to the troops, gave a Copenhagen dispatch to the Daily News.

"I salute you," said the emperor after embracing the prince. "I have often seen your gallant regiment at manoeuvres and it is a great pleasure to meet you again on conquered ground."

"The heroic deeds at Verdun will be engraved on the history of the war forever in golden letters. Your regiment has upheld the glorious traditions of your forefathers in 1870 and 1871."

"The armies of the crown prince and Duke Albrecht of Wurttemberg have advanced while our eastern army has thrown three Russian army corps over the frontier, and two more Russian army corps have been captured in the field."

"For all these victories we have one God to thank, and He is our ancient God who is over us."

"I did all I could to keep the peace," the emperor is quoted as having said to a clergyman, "but our enemies would not have peace. Now we will have to crush them to the ground. Don't you agree?"

The clergyman, after relating this conversation, said he could do nothing but agree, adding that he was ready to sacrifice everything for the fatherland.

Berlin, Sept. 23.—Emperor William, on the occasion of the birthday of the Duke of Cumberland, wired from his headquarters in the field under date of September 21, as follows: "Though these are heavy days of trial I remember your birthday. Sincere wishes for yourself and yours. I pray God, who in His mercy has already done so much, to stay with our brave troops and give a final victory over all our enemies. You can be proud of your son, who has already earned an Iron Cross. Best wishes."
"Signed" WILHELM."

ALL VALCARTIER CAMP FOR FOREIGN SERVICE

Prime Minister Makes an Announcement After Visit to Contingent

Ottawa, Sept. 23.—The following announcement was made by the prime minister yesterday:

"In company with Sir George E. Foster and Mr. Rogers, I spent three days at Valcartier camp, where we met Colonel Hughes and had an opportunity of seeing nearly 25,000 men under review. During the past fortnight the men have improved wonderfully, both in appearance and efficiency. The organization of the camp seems excellent in every way. Everywhere I found most intense anxiety, and even impatience, to get to the front as soon as possible."

"After careful consideration it was determined to send forward all the men in camp—that is, all those who have passed the necessary medical examination. The expeditionary force, including the Princess Patricia Light Infantry, will number approximately 31,200 men and 7,500 horses. It will comprise eleven batteries of horse and field artillery of six guns each. These are of the most modern type, and are the same as those used in the British army. In addition, four heavy guns, known as 60-pounders, will also go forward, as well as a number of machine guns, many of which have been generously donated by patriotic citizens, whose gifts have already been acknowledged, and to whom the very sincere thanks of the government and the Canadian people are expressed."

"The news that the entire force assembled would go forward was received with loud demonstrations. Yesterday I visited every brigade, shook hands with every officer of the force who was available, and addressed the assembled officers of each brigade. In speaking to the officers I said that Canada was proud of the splendid response to the call of duty; that the Canadian people had them God-speed, in the fullest assurance that when the Canadian force was called upon to perform the soldier's earnest duty before the foe, we were confident that officers and men would so behave themselves that they would bring pride to the hearts of all Canada. I said that while Canada was proud of the response that had been evoked by the call to arms for the defence of our institutions and liberties, the officers and men inspired by the duty of service to the state should also be proud that the occasion gave them the opportunity and privilege of performing that duty."

"The reasons for sending the entire force are obvious. These men have come forward with great earnestness and enthusiasm, and have spent some weeks at Valcartier in training and in preparation. The numbers assembled, while greatly exceeding the force at first proposed to be sent forward, will, to a considerable extent, be necessary for the purpose of reinforcements, which, from time to time, will be required."

"The total reinforcements for the first year of a great war are estimated at from 60 to 70 per cent. If the reserve depot necessary for supplying such reinforcements were established in Canada, eight or ten weeks might elapse before they could reach the front through difficulties of transport, convey, etc. If, on the other hand, such reserve depots are established in Great Britain, the Canadian expeditionary force can be reinforced to its full strength within four or five days. For this reason, as well as others of a like character, we deemed it advisable that the reserves should be kept on hand in Great Britain, so that the force at the front might continually be kept at its full strength, and that without the slightest unnecessary delay."

"The great demands on the British government in supplying guns and rifles have made it essential that Canada should assist in every possible way. Therefore, in addition to the seventy field guns and the machine guns with which the Canadian expeditionary force is equipped, we are arranging to supply the British government with the following:

"1. Forty-seven 18-pounders of the most modern type, which had been ordered before the war broke out.

"2. Fifty-one guns of the same type which the department of militia has on hand. These will go with the transports.

"3. Six 60-pounders, which will also go at the same time.

"4. About thirty machine guns, ordered by the Canadian government in England before the war broke out.

"All this is being done by the Canadian government at the request of the war office, in order to assist in equipping the great army which is being assembled in the Mother Country. It is also expected that a considerable number of rifles will be supplied from Canada to the war office."

"The recent delay in dispatching troops has been altogether due to requirements of transport, which it is very difficult to meet. The force must be under convoy, and the steamers, numbering 25 or more, must sail at the same time. It will be generally understood that the provision of so large a number of steamers suitably equipped for the transportation of men, horses, etc., is no light task. The services of Captain Lindsay, of the marine and fisheries department, who is an expert in such matters, have been engaged for many weeks past in assisting the transport department in this matter. A committee of prominent gentlemen, experienced in transportation across the Atlantic, has also volunteered its services to the government, and these gentlemen have been of great assistance, for which the thanks of the government are tendered."

Renewed Vigor in Old Age

This Letter Brings a Message of Cheer to the Aged—Results of Using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

New, rich blood is what is most needed in the declining years to keep up energy and vitality. That Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is a wonderful help in maintaining good health and prolonging life is attested by the writer of this letter.

Mr. Stephen J. Leard, North Tryon, P. E. I., writes: "At seventy-five years of age my heart gave out and became very irregular and weak in action and would palpitate. My nerves also became weak, and I could do nothing but lie in bed in a languishing condition, losing strength and weight. In that condition I began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and am cured. Had I not obtained this treatment I would now be in the box with the roof over my nose. At eighty-one I have an energy which means go, and I am writing this letter so that old people like myself may prolong their health and strength by using this great medicine." 60c a box, 6 for $2.50. BRITISH ARMY GAINED
IN FOUR DAYS' FIGHT

Field Marshal French Reports of Movement September 14 to 18

London, Sept. 22.—The following descriptive account, from Field Marshal Sir John French's headquarters, of the British army's operations up to September 18, was issued to-night.

"General Headquarters, Sept. 18. "At the date of the last narrative, September 14, the Germans were making a determined resistance along the River Aisne. Opposition, which it was first thought might possibly be of a rear guard nature, not entailing material delay to our progress, has developed and proved to be more serious than was anticipated."

"The action now being fought by the Germans along their line may, it is true, have been undertaken in order to gain time for some strategic operation, and may not be their main stand. But if this is true, the fighting is naturally on a scale which, as to the extent of ground covered and duration of resistance, makes it indicative of its progress from what is known as a 'pitched battle,' though the enemy certainly showed signs of considerable disorganization during the earlier days of their retirement phase."

"Whether it was originally intended by them to defend the position they took up as strenuously as they have done, or whether the delay gained for them during the 12th and 13th by their artillery has enabled them to develop their resistance and reinforce their line to an extent not originally contemplated, cannot yet be said."

"So far as we are concerned, the action still being contested is the battle of the Aisne. The foe are fighting just across the river along the whole of our front, to the east and west. The struggle is not confined to the valley of that river, that will probably bear its name."

"The progress of our operations and those of the French armies nearest us for the 14th, 15th, 16th and 17th will be described."

"On Monday, the 14th, those of our troops who had on the previous day crossed the Aisne, after driving in the German rear guards on that evening, found portions of the enemy's front in prepared defensive positions on the right bank, and could do little more than secure a footing north of the river. This, however, they maintained, in spite of two counter-attacks delivered at dusk and at 10 p.m., in which the fighting was severe."

"During the 14th strong reinforcements were passed to the north bank, the troops crossing by ferry, by pontoon bridges and by the remains of permanent bridges. Close co-operation with the French forces was maintained, and the general progress was good, although the opposition was vigorous, and the state of the roads after the heavy rains made movements slow. One division alone failed to secure the ground it expected to."

"The first army corps, after repulsing repeated attacks, captured 800 prisoners and 12 guns. The cavalry also took a number of prisoners. Many of the Germans taken belong to the reserve and landwehr formations, which fact appears to indicate that the enemy is compelled to draw on other classes of soldiers to fill the gaps in his ranks."

"There was a heavy rain throughout the night of September 14-15, and during the 15th the situation of the British forces underwent no essential change. But it became more and more evident that the defensive preparations made by the enemy were more extensive than was at first apparent."

"In order to counterbalance these measures were taken by us to economize our troops and to secure protection from the hostile artillery fire, which was very fierce, and our men continued to improve their own entrenchments. The Germans bombarded our lines nearly all day, using heavy guns brought, no doubt, from Maubeuge, as well as those with the corps."

"All their counter-attacks failed, however, though in some places they were repeated six times. One made on the fourth guards brigade was repulsed with heavy slaughter."

"An attempt to advance slightly made by that part of our line was unsuccessful as regards gain of ground."

but led to the withdrawal of part of the enemy's infantry and artillery. "Further counter-attacks made during the night were beaten off. Rain came on towards the evening and continued intermittently until 9 a.m. on the 16th. Besides adding to the discomfort of the soldiers holding the line, the wet weather to some extent hampered the motor transport service, which was also hindered by broken bridges."

"On Wednesday, the 16th, there was little change in the situation opposite the British. The efforts made by the enemy were less active than those on the previous day, though their bombardment continued throughout the morning and evening. Forty prisoners were taken."

"On Thursday, the 17th, the situation still remained unchanged. The German heavy artillery fire was more active than on the previous day. The only infantry attacks made by the enemy were on the extreme right of our position, and, as had happened before, were repulsed with heavy loss, chiefly on this occasion by our field artillery."

"In order to convey some idea of the nature of the fighting, it may be said that along the greater part of our front the Germans have been driven back from the forward slopes on the north of the river. Their infantry are holding strong lines of trenches amongst and along the edges of the numerous woods which crown the slopes. These trenches are elaborately constructed and cleverly concealed. In many places there are wire entanglements and lengths of rabbit fencing."

"Both woods and open are carefully aligned, so that they can be swept by rifle fire and machine guns which are invisible from our side of the valley. The ground in front of the infantry trenches is also as a rule under cross fire from the field artillery placed on neighboring ridges, and under high angle fire from pieces placed well across behind the woods on top of the plateau."

"A feature of this action is the use by the enemy of their numerous howitzers, with which they are able to direct long range fire all over the valley and right across it. Upon these they evidently place great reliance."

"Where our men are holding the forward edges of the high ground on the north side they are now strongly entrenched. They are well fed, and in spite of the wet weather of the past week are cheerful and confident."

"The bombardment by both sides has been very heavy, and on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, was practically continuous. Nevertheless, in spite of the general din caused by the reports of the immense number of heavy guns in action along our front on Wednesday, the arrival of the French force acting against the German right flank was at once announced on the east of our front some miles away, by the continued roar of the quick-firing artillery with which the attack was opened."

"So far as the British are concerned, the greater part of this week has been passed in bombardment, in gaining ground by degrees and beating back severe counter-attacks with heavy slaughter. Our casualties have been severe, but it is probable those of the enemy are heavier."

"The rain has caused a great drop in the temperature, and there is more than a distant feeling of autumn in the air, especially in the early morning."

"On our right and left the French have been fighting fiercely, and have also been gradually gaining ground. One village has already during this battle been captured and recaptured twice by either side, and at the time of writing remains in the hands of the Germans."

"The fighting has been at close quarters and of a desperate nature and the streets of the village are filled with dead of both sides."

"As an example of the spirit which is inspiring our allies, the following translation of an order of the day, published on September 9, after the battle of Montmirail by the commander of the French fifth army, is given:

"Soldiers, upon the memorable fields of Montmirail, of Vauchamps, of Champaubert, which a century ago witnessed the victories of our ancestors, our offensive has triumphed over the resistance of the Germans. Held on his flanks, his centre broken, the enemy now is returning towards the east and north by forced marches. The most renowned army corps of old Prussia, the contingents of Westphalia, of Hanover, of Brandenburg, have retired in haste before you."

"This first success is no more than a prelude. The enemy is shaken, but not yet decisively beaten. You have still to undergo severe hardships, to make long marches, to fight hard battles. May the image of our country, soiled by barbarians, always remain before your eyes. Never was it more necessary to sacrifice for her."

"Saluting the heroes who have fallen in the fighting of the last few days, my thoughts turn to you, the victors in the next battle. Forward, soldiers, for France!"

CENSORED STATEMENT OF GERMAN CASUALTIES

Two Generals Killed; 174th Infantry at Saint Die and Luneville Suffered Heavily.

Berlin, Sept. 22.—The casualty list published to-day shows the death of two German generals in the western campaign. Generals von Wrochemand and von Ardou. Major-General von Throtha is also given as killed, his death having occurred August 30. Among the slightly wounded are two lieutenant-generals, von Willisen and von Kuehne.

The list, containing 5,895 names, gives the name and date of the battle for the first time, and indicates that the casualty list published so far covered as (rest of sentence apparently deleted by the British censor).

The total losses so far published aggregate 10,086 dead, 39,769 wounded and 12,621 missing.

To-day's list shows the heaviest losses were sustained by the 174th infantry in the battles of Saint Die, August 20, and Luneville, August 22. This regiment lost its colonel, 17 officers and 195 men dead, 21 officers and 1,092 wounded and 59 men missing.

Tire Attacks

Which Goodyears are Best Fitted to Resist

The Fiercest Four

These are the four chief-tire troubles:

Rim-Cuts Loose Treads
Blow-Outs Punctures

Note, for your own sake, how Goodyears meet them in ways exclusive to these tires.

Rim-cuts are impossible in Goodyear No-Rim-Cut tires. We control the way—the only feasible way—to prevent it.

Blow-outs—most of them—occur in weak spots, due to wrinkled fabric. We remove this cause by our "On-Air" cure, which no one else employs.

Loose treads are combated by a patent method, which creates in each tire hundreds of large rubber rivets.

Punctures and skidding are best met by our exclusive All-Weather tread. It is tough and double-thick. The grips are deep, sharp, resistless. Yet the tread—flat and regular—runs as smoothly as plain treads.

THE WAR

The correspondent of the London Daily Mail reports that the allies have turned the German right wing between Peronne and St. Quentin. Other reports of a similar nature are in circulation in London and Paris. The official French bureau, however, contents itself with the general statement that the allies' left wing has advanced. It is significant that the censor has passed for publication the dispatch from the Mail's correspondent.

It is believed that the operations along the Oise and in the region of St. Quentin will determine the issue of the present terrific battle. If the turning movement now in progress is continued successfully the German right wing will be prevented from retreating by way of Cambrai to Mons, where General von Kluck is said to have established his headquarters. Apparently it is impossible to dislodge the Germans in any other way. They hold immensely strong positions north of the Aisne and in the vicinity of Rheims, and Berlin claims that in that district they have gained ground. We surmise that the French are doing no more on their centre than holding the positions they already have and there will be gains and losses until the movement on their left takes a decisively definite form. It was in this way that the battle of the Marne was determined.

The Germans are making a savage counter attack in the Woerthe district northeast of Verdun. They retired northward when their main front retreated from the Marne and are attempting to regain the ground lost. The object of this attack is to open the way for a retirement on Metz, now commanded by the great fortress of Verdun. The French, however, are in this district in force, with General Pau in command. They always have regarded it as one of their vital points of defence, because success by the Germans there would enable them to isolate the chain of forts along the frontier and execute a dangerous turning movement on the defenders' right wing. It is in that direction more than from the north that they always have considered their worst menace lay, and the campaign so far has not altered their impression.

It is now almost two months since Germany declared war upon France. Had anybody told the Kaiser's staff that by the end of that time its armies would be striving desperately to retire intact from France after having failed to obtain a decisive victory and capture Paris, he would have been looked upon in a fortress for lese majeste. According to the German schedule, France was to have been crippled and detached from the triple entente in less than a month, while in six weeks German and Austrian troops were to have reached the line of Vilna to Petrograd, which would have enabled them to come to a triumphant peace with Russia. Instead, trenches and fortified positions are being feverishly established on the Somme and Meuse in the prospect of a further retirement to the French border and into Belgium, while the Austrian field armies have been shattered, one of their fortresses in Galicia, in which remnants sought shelter, has fallen, the second has been isolated and the Russians are marching on Cracow, the third. In the south Bosnia now lies at the feet of the Serbians, who in two decisive engagements have put out of business at least seven of Austria's army corps. When we remember that this is but the opening phase of the war as far as the allies are concerned, we can conclude without prejudice that the dual alliance has by long odds the short end of the pole.

CANNOT DISPROVE THEM.

The Chicago Tribune of Thursday last published a long article from its special correspondent, James O'Donnell Bennett, dispatched from Aix-la-Chapelle, denying the stories of German atrocities in Belgium. The denials are said to be concurred in by other prominent correspondents who accompanied the German forces. But after reading the article through its four or five columns we find it refutes nothing at all. It makes no attempt to meet the instances described in detail, including specific names, dates and places by the Belgian commissioner or by other correspondents equally reliable. It gives instances of courtesy on the part of the German officers, the kindly attitude of German soldiers to Belgian children, their consideration for their horses, etc. It was unnecessary for them to expatiate on these incidents, because nobody doubts that there are humane officers and men in the German army. Similarly nobody believes that the Germans permitted Messrs. O'Donnell and party to see but a very small part of what transpired in Belgium. Certainly they were not staging atrocities for the inspection of newspaper men.

But the correspondents saw something. Here it is:

"The rigors and the shocking waste of war we have seen."

"We have seen burning villages and women weeping over their desolated homes."

"We have seen miles of highway strewn with the caps, coats, bloody shoes, bloody bandages, smashed rifles, empty knapsacks, band instruments, field glasses, and wine bottles of the retreating French."

"We have seen new made English graves in the lonely fields over which the evening mist hung like a pale shroud."

"We have beheld the wreck and the crime and the equator of war's passing, but we have been spared the sight of outraged women and tortured children."

Precisely. They saw burning villages and women weeping over them. They also saw the bodies of numerous Belgian soldiers. When we reflect that Germany had sworn to protect those same villages, that the Belgians were resisting the invasion of their country undertaken in violation of every principle of decency and honor because it was necessary for Germany "to back her way" through to Paris, we wonder what must have been the nature of the diet with which the Germans regaled those correspondents when they locked them up securely in Aix-la-Chapelle to cause them to declare that they had seen no atrocities in Belgium. The very presence of German soldiers in Belgium is an atrocity, a black wrong admitted by the German chancellor himself.

This is what the Tribune man has to say about Louvain:

"A few days later Louvain lost its head. It went mad. Its civilians fired from ambush upon German soldiers."

"The deed was the supreme outrage against laws of civilized warfare."

"The punishment was terrible and it has put the fear of the Prussian god into every Belgian city and hamlet from Antwerp to Beaumont, from Ostend to Liege."

"To-day the ancient and renowned university city of northern Europe lies in ashes."

"The halls in which so many American priests of the Roman church are proud to tell you they have studied are level with the ground. It was awful, but it was war."

The German readers of the Tribune, which published the report in their own language, may appreciate the extreme niceties of this part of the narrative, but nobody else will. According to the correspondent the town of Louvain was destroyed and no doubt many innocent people were killed, because some civilians, fighting for their all, perpetrated the "supreme outrage of civilized warfare" by firing upon soldiers who, in pursuance of well known German policy, advertised for years by German publicists, had come to take their country. And did the colonial farmers who fired from ambush upon the British soldiers at Lexington a hundred and forty years ago perpetrate a "supreme outrage of civilized warfare?"

We trust Mr. O'Donnell and party will meet Mr. Powell, another correspondent of the Chicago Tribune, before they return from Germany. Here is Mr. Powell's report of an interview he had with General von Boehm, whom he describes as a jovial, red-faced old warrior:

"Three days ago, general," I said, "I was in Aerschot. The whole town now is but a ghastly, blackened, bloodstained ruin."

"When we entered Aerschot the son of the burgomaster came into the room, drew a revolver and assassinated my chief of staff," the general said. "What followed was only retribution. The townspeople only got what they deserved."

"But why wreak your vengeance on women and children?"

"None has been killed," the general asserted positively.

"I am sorry to contradict you, general," I asserted with equal positiveness, "but I have myself seen their mutilated bodies. So has Mr. Ginson, secretary of the American legation at Brussels, who was present during the destruction of Louvain."

"Of course, there always is danger of women and children being killed during street fighting," said General Von Boehm, "if they insist on coming into the street. It is unfortunate, but it is war."

"But how about a woman's body I saw, with her hands and feet cut off? How about a white-haired man and his son whom I helped bury outside Semptad, who had been killed merely because a retreating Belgian had shot a German soldier outside their house? There were twenty-two bayonet wounds on the old man's face. I counted them. How about the little girl two years old who was shot while in her mother's arms by a Uhlan, and whose funeral I attended at Bystopdenberg? How about the old man who was hung from the rafters in his house by his hands and roasted to death by a bonfire being built under him?"

The general seemed somewhat taken aback by the amount and exactness of my data.

"Such things are horrible, if true," he said. "Of course our soldiers, like soldiers of all armies, sometimes get out of hand and do things which we would never tolerate if we knew it. At Louvain, for example, I sentenced two soldiers to twelve years' penal servitude apiece for assaulting a woman."

IN THE BALKANS.

A few years ago Austria-Hungary, at the dictation of Germany, annexed the Balkan states of Bosnia and Herzegovina, in direct contravention of a treaty and in open contempt for the protests of Russia and Serbia. Responsibility for this act of high brigandage was attributed to the late Archduke Franz Ferdinand, who was assassinated recently by a young Slav fanatic in the capital of Bosnia. This crime was seized upon as a pretext for starting the present war, Austria invading Serbia with the evident intention of crushing her, just as Germany is endeavoring to crush Belgium.

To-day there are no Austrians in Serbian territory and the flags of Serbia and Montenegro are flying over Sarajevo. Francis Joseph's army met with a decisive defeat at the battle of Jadar river, on the Bosnian frontier, a month ago. The pressure of public opinion in Hungary, however, forced Vienna to give orders for the reorganization of its southern army, and again the Serbian frontier was crossed. Again the Austrians were defeated, almost upon the same battleground, and so headlong has been its retreat that it apparently has made no serious attempt to dispute the occupation of the capital of Bosnia by the triumphant soldiers of Serbia and Montenegro.

The annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina by Serbia and Montenegro will be a prelude to the occupation of a considerable section of Dalmatia, which will give King Peter's kingdom access to the Adriatic, something Austrian diplomacy for years has sought to prevent. German statesmen force the ultimate confederation of all the Slav states in the Balkans under Russian hegemony and through them the entrance of Russia as a Mediterranean power. A few years ago this would have been disquieting in London and Paris. Now it is realized that Russia in the Mediterranean would not be nearly so great a menace as a growing Germanic influence there. Nations which believe their destinies cannot be fulfilled without crushing their neighbors are dangerous no matter where their influence may be.

If Italy desires to extend her power and influence in that classic sea now is her time. Her situation is such that it would be an easy operation to tear from Austria not only the territory the Hapsburgs stole from her, but to close the gates of the Adriatic on the dual monarchy altogether. She need expect no mercy should Austria extricate herself from the predicament into which she has fallen, and it is to her interest to do what she can to lay the Prussianism of Berlin and Vienna in the dust. The signs of the times point to her doing so.

DELAY AT VALCARTIER.

Dissatisfaction, long repressed for obvious reasons, is beginning to be expressed throughout Canada because of the delay of the government in dispatching the Canadian troops from Valcartier to the seat of war in Europe. The latent feeling of disappointment has become so acute that Premier Borden in an effort to allay it has been compelled to make a visit to the camp and issue some pointless explanations mingled with needless expressions of the loyalty and devotion of this country to the Empire. The war with Germany has been in progress for more than six weeks, and our troops, whose influence at this time, probably the most critical in the campaign, might have a determining effect, so far as the people of Canada know, are still parading and manoeuvring at Valcartier. The first public note of criticism of the Minister of Militia, who is directly responsible, has been uttered by Toronto Saturday Night, a paper of Conservative leanings, which says:

"While an army, even a small army, such as we are endeavoring to get into the field, is not created in a night, nor by merely rubbing a lamp and wishing for it, one may be pardoned none the less for giving expression to an ardent desire that our Valcartier

We have succeeded in securing the Agency for the finest manufactured on the Pacific Coast. Most BRIQUETS are made from Tar and Waste Coal from the mines. Ours are made from the richest and purest portion of the coal vein (that which crumbles easiest). This fine coal ground still finer and mixed with pure asphalt, composes our organization was in other and able hands. If one-tenth of the charges that are being made by responsible military officers against the Minister of Militia are true, and we believe them to be true, it is full time that the Hon. Col. Sam Hughes was given his orders to "right about" by the Borden government.

BRIQUET

For a grate, kitchen or furnace fire this coal cannot be surpassed in heating qualities or low percentage of ash. Why not try a small quantity of this faultless fuel? If they do not satisfy you in every way we will remove them from your basement, refund your money and not charge you a cent for what you have used. The price is $8.00 per ton, delivered.

"There is no time for carping criticism, but it is time for action. If Canada is to be represented in this war as well as she deserves and desires to be, the Minister of Militia must be replaced, and under the circumstances it seems impossible that Sir Robert Borden is not privy to this necessity. Party politics and party men, no matter how valuable they may be in the 'howling times of peace,' should not in the present crisis be allowed to stand in the way. It is well known that Valcartier camp, together with the various military headquarters throughout Canada, are to-day a seething mass of discontent, brought about wholly by inefficient management and bad judgment on the part of the Minister of Militia. If the Premier has any doubts on the subject, let him call before him the commanding officers and ask questions."

TO-DAY'S SUMMARY.

Momentous events that may decide the battle of the Aisne are transpiring near St. Quentin, where the allies are making a furious attempt to turn the German right wing.

Vague but persistent reports, wholly unofficial, coming from several points, suggest that the Franco-Belgian turning movement is slowly developing.

However, in the absence of official claims or admissions regarding this tremendously important action, little is definitely known.

Such official references as are made to the extreme western battlefield are very guarded.

An English correspondent declares that the German right has been turned between Peronne and St. Quentin.

The British admiralty has not made public its estimate of the casualties when three British cruisers were sunk by German submarines, but press reports indicate that probably from 1,200 to 1,500 officers and men were lost. Reports that two of the attacking submarines were sunk lack confirmation.

The German casualties so far as reported number 63,476, according to an announcement at Berlin. The latest casualty list issued last night bore 5,895 names. The deaths of General von Wrohem and General von Arbour are chronicled.

An official statement issued at Paris at 3 o'clock this afternoon says that the allies have advanced their western wing after severe fighting. It is declared also that German attacks on the east wing of the allies have been repulsed.

Grand Duke Nicholas, commander-in-chief of the Russian forces, in reporting the capture of Jaroslavl says there is no change in the situation on the northwestern frontier.

It is announced officially at Nish that after a nine days' struggle the Austrians are in full retreat along the front from Ljubovia to Losnitza.

A dispatch from Rome says it is reported that the Austrian cruisers Maria Theresa and Admiral Stau have put into Sebenico, in Dalmatia, badly damaged.

A press dispatch from Petrograd says that the railroads leading to Przemyśl are being held by the Russians and that the Austrians are falling back behind the forts at Przemyśl.

The Belgian army at Antwerp is reported as continuing occasional sorties against the German army, whose base is at Brussels.

The Song That's Going To Be the Biggest Hit of the Season

"In An Old-Fashioned Town"—Words by Ada Leonora Harris, music by W. H. Squire, published in four keys. Per copy.....40c

The first verse as follows:

There's an old-fashioned house, in an old-fashioned street,
 In a quaint little old-fashioned town,
 There's a street where the cobble stones harass the feet,
 As it straggles up hill and then down;
 And, though to and fro through the world I must go,
 My heart while it beats in my breast,
 Where'er I may roam, to that old-fashioned home
 Will fly back like a bird to its nest.

Bank Clearings.—The bank clearings in Victoria for the week ending yesterday amounted to $1,926,796.

Sixteen Miles Completed.—Sixteen miles of steel have been laid on the 26-mile stretch of the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern railway between Coalpoint and Otter Summit which is to be used jointly by that railway and the Kettle Valley line. Ballasting has been done on a portion of the finished route also.

Swimming Lessons.—Frank Crompton, who has had charge of the boys at the city playgrounds during the summer and has also conducted classes in swimming at the Gorge, will give free lessons in swimming this autumn and winter at the Y. M. C. A. baths. No classes will be opened, but members of the association will be instructed whenever opportunity affords. There will be a meeting of the Association Swimming club to-morrow evening to draw up plans for the winter's work.

Committee at Work.—The district committee of the Trades and Labor council, composed of A. Watchman, J. L. Martin and T. F. Mathison, has issued an appeal to the generous citizens of Victoria for aid for "many who are workless and hungry and are registered with us." The appeal points out that the war, following on the money stringency, has compelled many business premises to reduce their staffs and buildings to be held up in construction, the need for assistance being rendered urgent in other ways also. The committee asks that all registrations be made at room 5, Labor hall, 1424 Government street.

Gonzales Chapter.—The Gonzales chapter, I. O. B. E., met yesterday afternoon for the first time this season, convening at the residence of the regent, Mrs. Curtis Sampson. One of the chief items of business discussed was in connection with the holding of a Christmas tree for the children of soldiers, and December 23 was fixed as a provisional date, further particulars to be decided at a later meeting. The $593 to be in hand toward the chapter's cot fund, and it was decided to send a contribution toward the fund of the provincial chapter. At the close of the business meeting a short social session was held, during which tea was served.

Interesting Temperatures.—The general high temperatures which were experienced yesterday at various points in the Dominion are of particular interest, considering the season of the year. Locally the highest temperature recorded was 67, in the interior. The highest was 70, in eastern Canada, however, the summer temperatures were quite general. Quebec reported a maximum temperature of 82; Montreal, 84; Halifax, 86; Toronto, 87; and Ottawa, 88. Weather conditions throughout British Columbia are generally fair, and it is only in the northern part of the province, where it is raining heavily, that other than fine weather prevails. The prospects are that the present favorable local conditions will continue for a day or two at least.

Speaks of Great Men.—Rev. John Robson lectured on Monday evening at Belmont Methodist church to the members of the Young People's society, a large number of whom were present. Mrs. B. Stewart occupying the chair. Mr. Robson, in an interesting address, gave the history of twelve of the great men of ancient history, beginning with Hammurabi and coming down to Blibdici, Grecian, Egyptian and Assyrian leaders up to 500 B.C. The great events of the period covered, with the exception of the wars, were dealt with, special reference being made to the lost arts and wise saying of the ancients, and the speaker pointing out that, as far as matters intellectual were concerned, the people of the time were almost the equals of the people of modern civilized countries, and in some things the superiors. Forms of civilization and government, approximately closely to those of to-day, had existed, and many so-called modern inventions had been known to the civilization of five thousand years ago. At the close of his entertaining discourse a hearty vote of thanks to the speaker was passed.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

Victoria Times, September 23, 1889.

At a meeting of the congregation of St. Andrew's Roman Catholic Cathedral held after high mass yesterday, it was decided to begin the building of the new cathedral on the plot of ground at the corner of View street and Blanchard avenue. The new cathedral will seat not less than 1,000 people. It is the intention to make it one of the finest sacred edifices on the coast.

A meeting of the municipal court of revision was held this morning under the Municipal Act, 1889, to determine the assessments upon which protests had been lodged.

The Oregon Railroad and Navigation Company will build a new steamer for the Victoria route, to be known as the Mountain Queen. She will resemble the T. J. Potter, but will be of more substantial design. The steamer will be ready for launching on November 1, and will replace the North Pacific on this route. A speed of 16 knots is guaranteed.

Whist Drive.—Victoria lodge, No. 1, I. O. O. F., will hold an entertainment and whist drive on Monday evening next, when a very pleasant time is assured. Members of the city lodges are invited.

Synod Meets.—The executive committee of the Anglican Synod met yesterday for the discussion of various matters, the Bishop of Columbia presiding. The meeting was held in the synod offices, Pemberton building.

Lend Furniture.—Weller Bros., Ltd., are kindly supplying free of charge the office furniture for the new headquarters of the Victoria Patriotic Aid society, now established at the north-west corner of Broad and Fort streets. The assistance of the firm in this particular is much appreciated by those who are working to raise the fund.

India's Mission Fields.—The St. Andrew's Missionary society held its monthly missionary meeting on Monday afternoon, the president, Mrs. Tufts, in the chair. There was a representative attendance of members. "Current Events" were dealt with in an interesting manner by Miss Mortimer, and Mrs. J. T. McLeod read an excellent paper on Central India, in which particular reference was made to the missionary work of the Presbyterian Church of Canada in that district.

Using Pool.—The Y. M. C. A. Swimming Pool is proving a blessing to members of the Fifth regiment stationed at the Willows, to whom it is being thrown open twice weekly. Yesterday four companies of the regiment marched in and had a swim, and today three companies. The baths will also be used by the Swimming club for its gala to be held some time in October, when the competition for the Lord Desborough, Benwell, and British Columbia championships cups will be held. The pool, after being closed for nearly a fortnight, was re-opened freshly painted and in first class condition.

Thanks Expressed.—The unemployment committee has extended thanks to Messrs. Pemberton & Son, the Canadian Financiers Agency, Ltd., the Dominion Trust Co., and the B. C. Land and Investment Agency, Ltd., for the use of the offices and stores so kindly lent as registry offices for the unemployed in the city. The registration will continue to-day and to-morrow, when the lists secured will be classified, and representations made to the various employing concerns regarding the actual conditions prevailing. A committee shortly will visit the provincial government with the purpose of placing before the ministers the effects of an indiscriminate immigration policy, and to point out the necessity of supplementing the efforts of the municipalities in remedying the present state of affairs.

Missionary Society Tea.—Under the auspices of St. Andrew's Missionary society, and in aid of the current expense fund of that organization, a successful social and tea is being held this afternoon and evening at the residence of Mrs. G. H. Robertson, Elford street. Many ladies were present this afternoon at the proceedings, the reception rooms being generously thrown open by the hostess for the occasion being lavishly decorated with chrysanthemums and dahlias, and the tables in the diningroom prettily arranged. Miss Teach was in charge of the tea and refreshments, and under Mrs. Gleason's direction an excellent programme was given during the afternoon by Mrs. Charles Armstrong and Mrs. Staneland, who sang, and Mrs. G. Simpson, at the piano. This evening the programme will consist of vocal solos by Mrs. Gregson and Mr. Brown; violin duets by the Misses Black and Scowcroft; a whistling solo by Miss Cameron; and recitation, by Mrs. Gleason. Those in charge of the table of candies are Mrs. F. E. Smith, Miss Fortune and Miss Brown. All interested are cordially invited to attend this evening.

DON'T TAKE COUNTERFEIT MONEY

Hardly necessary to give any such advice—but it has an application.

And a very pointed one. The dealer who offers "something just as good" for a standard article is asking you to accept a counterfeit.

The substitute seldom has the ring of the genuine article. But it means greater profit to the dealer—a profit you pay.

When you ask for an advertised brand—GET WHAT YOU ASK FOR.

The nineteenth annual exhibition of the Islands' Agricultural and Fruit Growers' association was held last Wednesday at Ganges Harbor, a large number of visitors from Salt Spring and adjacent island attending the fair, which was formally opened by the Hon. Price Ellison with a few congratulatory words. An offer of $500, provided the association would put up a like amount, was made by the minister of agriculture, this sum to be placed toward the building of sheds for live stock. W. E. "KITTY MACKAY"

"Kitty Mackay" is on her way here. Catherine Chisholm Cushing's brilliant comedy will be seen at the Royal Victoria theatre on Thursday and Friday, Sept. 24 and 25, under the direction of William Elliott.

"Kitty Mackay" made her debut in New York more than a year ago entirely unknown. No one was aware of her existence until she made her bow on the night of the opening performance. The next morning all New York knew that "Kitty" was in town and all New York went to see this charming young Miss. Seats were placed on sale eight weeks in advance at first, then twelve weeks and before anyone knew it she had settled down for a long season's visit. Other plays came and went but "Kitty" nightly appeared before crowded houses.

The same company and production that were seen in New York will be seen here for a short pause in their long transcontinental tour. A special military night will be given on Thursday, Sept. 24, for the 50th Highlanders.

HOUSEHOLD LEAGUE

Members Discuss City Market and Prices of Produce; Many Attend Meeting.

The Household league met yesterday afternoon at the residence of the newly-appointed president, Mrs. Herbert Kent, a large number of housewives showing their interest by being present, and several new members being enrolled.

During the meeting a letter was read from Commissioner Cuthbert, who asked members of the league to patronize the public market. In this connection, after some discussion, objection was made to the prices charged there on the opening day last Friday as having been too high, and it was held that considering the absence of rentals and the fact that no delivery was made, prices should be considerably less for such commodities as chickens and apples. To make the market a success for either consumer or producer prices would have to be adjusted on a lower tariff.

The Saanich Farmers' Institute, it was announced, had agreed to furnish local produce at wholesale rates through its members to the Household league, which could purchase apples at 90 cents per box.

Members were reminded of the need of bringing in new members to the league. The present subscription fee was twenty-five cents per year, and those wishing to join should send the amount, with their name and address to Mrs. Cancellor, Glenfield inn.

The produce for sale by the league

PREPARING FOR NEXT CITY MARKET DAY

Plans for Coming Friday More Complete Than for Opening Day; Increased Supplies

The space at the Victoria public market will be fully occupied on Friday as the applications for stalls have materially increased. Additional stalls will be provided in the marquee which is to be erected in the centre.

A further appeal has been issued to the consumers, particularly the women of Victoria, to patronize the market. The Household league at its meeting yesterday drew attention to the details of the opening last Friday. The opinion was expressed that as the stalls were free to the holders, as will be the case for the next three Fridays, and as goods are not delivered, the prices of the commodities sold should be lower. It was regretted that the supplies were not larger last Friday, but this situation would correct itself next Friday, as the growers would be here in greater numbers and the supplies would be on hand earlier, the committee having set the opening hour for 8 o'clock.

One of the shortcomings of the opening market was the need of a responsible market clerk or secretary to manage the arrangements, to indicate prevailing prices to the growers, and to be a source of information for the customers. Very much of the success of a market depends on the person appointed for this post, as he can make or mar the success of a market. One of the chief causes of the continued prosperity of the New Westminster market is its management.

One feature of the market arrangements which the committee will be called upon to deal with is the terms under which the auction rings will be handled and the hours when sales will be permitted. Most market committees have found it a hard task to decide what steps ought to be taken in this regard, as the auctioneers are naturally all desirous of securing the most favorable hour of the day. At most times the applications are handled in the chronological order in which they have been made to the committee.

It is recognized that it will take a month or six weeks to set the market on its feet and take it out of the experimental stage, but given the necessary supply of produce, and plenty of support on the part of customers, no fear is expressed for the success of the plan.

Cut This Out

Famous Specialist's Recipe for Catarrhal Deafness and Head Necesses.

If you know someone who is troubled with head noises, or catarrhal deafness, put out this formula and hand to them, and you will have found the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. Recent experiments have proved conclusively that catarrhal deafness, head noises, etc., were the direct cause of constitutional disease, and that salves, sprays, inhalers, etc., merely temporize with the complaint, and seldom, if ever, effect a permanent cure. This being so, much time and money has been spent of late by a noted specialist in perfecting a pure, gentle, yet effective tonic that would quickly dispel all traces of the catarrhal poison from the system. The effective prescription which was eventually formulated, and which has aroused the belief that deafness will soon be extinct, is given below in understandable form, so that anyone can treat themselves in their own home with little expense.

Secure from your druggist 1 oz. Pepsin (Double Strength), about 50c worth. Take this large and add to it 4 pint of hot water and 4 oz. of moist or granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

The first dose promptly ends the most distressing head noises, headache, dizziness, cloudy thinking, etc., while the bearing rapidly turns as the system is invigorated by the tonic action of the treatment. Loss of smell and mucus dripping in the back of the throat are other symptoms that show the presence of catarrhal poison, and which are quickly overcome by this efficacious treatment. Nearly ninety per cent. of all ear troubles are directly caused by catarrh, therefore there are but few people whose hearing cannot be restored by this simple home treatment. Every person who is troubled with head noises, catarrhal deafness, or catarrh in any form, should give this prescription a trial. There is nothing better.

IMPORTANT—In ordering Pepsin always specify that you want Double Strength; your druggist has it or he can get it for you; if not, send 5c to The International Laboratories, 74 St. Antoine St., Montreal, P. Q., who make a specialty of it.

GOES TO JAPAN

Commissioner Mapp, of Salvation Army, Sails to Take Up His New Work.

Commissioner Mapp, of the Salvation Army, accompanied by Mrs. Mapp, left on the Aki Maru yesterday afternoon for the Orient to take up the position of chief commissioner in Japan.

The commissioner is very well known in Canadian circles of the army as a former chief secretary for the dominion. As a result, the visit to this country which he has just completed, was made the occasion for a number of receptions and welcomes from members of the Salvation army at various points. He did not fill any engagement here yesterday but was met by Ensign Merritt and proceeded on board the steamship. He has left his family in Canada, except his eldest son, who is studying at the international training college with the purpose of becoming an officer in the army.

Commissioner Mapp has of late years carried on a great work for the Salvation army in South America, particularly in Buenos Aires. Large new buildings are rising in the Argentine capital as a result of his efforts. He holds that the Latin races of the southern continent are deserving of special attention. He told a representative of the "War Cry" in Toronto that the Salvation army had not until recently given that share of notice to these races that the advance of South America merited. The field was immense and the opportunities were great. The Japanese field, to which he was proceeding, had already been organized well, and there and in

Bad Complexions Are Now Easily Discarded

Every woman has it in her own hands to possess a beautiful and youthful complexion. No matter how soiled, faded or coarse the cuticle, ordinary mercurized wax will actually remove it, and Nature will substitute a skin as soft, clear and lovely as a child's. The action of the wax is not drastic, but gentle and agreeable. Minute particles of scurf skin come off day by day, yet no evidence of the treatment is discernible, other than the gradual complexional improvement. One ounce of mercurized wax, procurable at any drug store, suffices for most cases. It is put on at bedtime like cold cream and taken off in the morning with warm water. It is a certain method of discarding freckles, liver spots, moth patches, blackheads and pimples.

Wrinkles can be treated with benefit by bathing the face in a lotion prepared by dissolving 1 ounce powdered axolite in 4 pint witch hazel. Instantaneous results are secured.

SPORTING NEWS

NATIONALS AFTER INTERNATIONAL

PROFESSIONAL HOCKEY CIRCUIT

New York and Boston May Join New Eastern League; N. H. A. Owner Says Clubs Will Fight Invaders

That there is a coming hockey war in professional ranks is the substance of dispatches from the east concerning the efforts of the National Hockey Club to break into the professional game. The French Canadian management has gone so far as to meet the directors of the Boston and New York arenas in secret meeting on plans for an international league and there is now talk of the new league placing teams in Ottawa and Toronto. Hamilton is another town that is after a professional hockey club, and unless the N. H. A. admits the Montrealers, there is liable to be a merry conflict in the eastern cities this winter.

P. H. Wall, one of the owners of the Ontario, the N. H. A. team at Toronto, passed through Victoria last week and he stated to Lester Patrick that there was absolutely no chance of any change being made in the N. H. A. this winter. This means that the old league is willing to fight. The new league has announced that it will play seven-man hockey and with this as a starter, it intends to invade N. H. A. territory. One of its trump cards is the placing of a team in Ottawa, a city which has always been opposed to six-man hockey and already efforts are being made to bring this about.

Montreal, Sept. 23.—The National A. A. held a special meeting yesterday to consider plans for entering professional hockey this winter, but declined to make any statement, beyond saying that teams from Toronto and Ottawa would probably be in their league.

"We have made no application to the N. H. A. for admission," Leo Dandurand, chairman of the hockey committee, states.

It was learned that the Nationals hope to have a team from either Toronto or Ottawa in the new league which they will form if the N. H. A. does not give them a franchise. Mr. Dandurand and President Caron have made plans to leave on another trip towards the end of the week, but just where their destination is they refuse to state. The Nationals' new grounds have about been completed, and the quarter-mile track will be in good shape in another week.

EASTERN HOCKEY

The playing manager of the Canadians may be traded to Toronto for Jack Marshall, Gardner states that he is willing to take over the Toronto team if they are willing to pay him a suitable salary.

WILHOIT LIKELY TO LEAD THE COASTERS

Former Bee is Still Hitting .350; Phillies May Fire Doolin

Several months ago the Times picked Joe Wilhoit as the leading slogger of the Northwest league and the final league averages show the former Victoria outfielder topping the league with the splendid mark of .322. Frisk, Hogan and Swain are close up, but the local star, who is now playing havoc with the Coast league twirlers, was easily the pick.

Wilhoit also pilfered 25 bases in addition to being an outfielder above the ordinary. He is hitting third for Venice and his success against south-paws, though a left-handed batter, has already established his right to a permanent job with the Tigers. Wilhoit may go up to the big leagues this year, and it is known that he has a couple of offers to try his luck with the Federals.

The Portland Journal says Coast league magnates are thinking of cutting the season short three weeks. Hap Hogan figured that he would lose about $2,000 taking his Venice team to Portland for the last trip. This is surely one tough year on the minor leagues in baseball, with the magnates smuggling up to the bankers trying to borrow money enough to meet their bills.

Frank Chance is evidently a fallen idol among the directors of the New York Americans. Among the blunders charged up to Chance are: The release of Birdie Crec, Bert Daniels, Harry Walter and Claude Derrick; his inability to get along with Pitcher Ray Caldwell; the exchange of Hal Chase for Rolfe Zeider and Babe Borton, and the blunder of selecting Bermuda as a training camp. Besides, he is said to have wasted a fortune in trying out useless players.

Infielder Mitchell, who was with the Ottawa club, of the Canadian league, and regarded as the best shortstop in that circuit will join the Toronto Leafs in the course of a day or two. Charley Pick, who has been playing the position since the departure of Fisher, is shortly to report to the Washington Americans, to whom he has been sold.

With the baseball season approaching its end the "winter league" is busy with gossip. One story that is generally credited is that Charley Doolin will not manage the Phillies next year, but that Pat Moran will be in charge of that National league team. It is said that Doolin will be a member of the Boston Braves next year.

REMARKED ON THE SIDE

N. H. A. Will Fight Opposition.

It is now said that the National Hockey Association, like its baseball confreres, has decided to give battle to the proposed new league in Eastern Canada. A meeting is booked at Montreal this week when the magnates will line up their plans for the coming season. Nationals have not yet made application for admission, but they have been feeling out the strength of the N. H. A. This new club has even gone so far as to hold a meeting with the directors of the New York and Boston arenas with regard to an international league. They look for teams from Boston, New York, Toronto and Ottawa, which with two clubs in Montreal, would give them a powerful organization. Unless the N. H. A. breaks up, the Pacific Coast Hockey Association will not be involved in the fight, but if the new league starts to raid the P. C. H. A. for players, retaliation upon the part of the Coast League may be looked for.

Doc Time Scores Again.

The Hun is at the gate and the Honus isn't very far away from the same. For the first time in his extensive career Wagner is on the verge of completing a season below .300. He is now batting under .260, and only a fusillade of base hits—a veritable shoal of swats—will put the widespread Dutchman over the purple-bordered mark. Hans and Larry Lajoie are travelling out together. Both are batting around .263—something like 100 points below their eighteen-year average. It has taken old Doc Time a long while to collect from this great club, but the Old Doc is absorbing his toll at last.

When Jim Gaffney slipped J. Evers $25,000 and a four-year contract at $10,000 a year a number of estimable folks thought Mr. Gaffney was curious in the euphoria, or to omit all slang—comical in the conk. It was a foolish move on Mr. Gaffney's part beyond a doubt. So foolish that it has only netted him about $100,000 or maybe $200,000 on the investment.

AUTO RACES FOR WILLOWS TRACK

Saturday's Events Will Witness Breaking of Existing Records; Novel Contests

With dry weather Saturday's motor races at the Willows should witness the lowering of all existing motor records for the Willows track. The management had a drag and harrow at work on the exhibition circuit last evening, and the motorcycle riders turned out in force and filled up any small holes or furrows that slowed the tough going on Saturday. Manager Toots Cameron states that he will have an even bigger card of races for Saturday, and he expects to have a special feature in a matched race between a 90 horse-power Italia car and his 80 horse-power Stutz. It is not settled upon whether this race can be pulled off on Saturday, but this race is assured for Thanksgiving Day. The Italia will be driven by E. Noel, of Portland, while Toots Cameron will pilot the Stutz, which is owned by C. Grant. The drivers will post $250 each as a purse for this event, which will be a ten-mile race.

Three ladies have so far entered the ladies' race, and it is expected that there will be fully half-a-dozen face the starter when the event is called. The ladies' race was postponed on Saturday because of the condition of the track, but with fair weather this week-end, it should be one of the big features. There will be a number of novelty events for Saturday, including a motorcycle obstacle race, side car event, auto-banking race, and a number of free-for-all contests. The riders will have the track for practising every evening this week.

Harry Hanover will again enter his Yellow Peril in the open events, and he expects to score a clean-up on a dry track. The complete programme is as follows:

First race, 2 miles, single stock, 3 heats.
Second race, 5 miles, novice, open. All riders eligible who never won first on Willows track.
Third race, 3 miles, 7 h.p. twin, 2 heats.
Fourth race, motorcycle, obstacle, open.
Fifth race, motorcycle, side car against Saxon.
Sixth race, 5 miles, Bullet, stripped.
Seventh race, ladies' race, 2 miles, touring car.
Eighth race, joyriders' handicap, touring cars only.
Ninth race, automobile, free for all.
Tenth race, automobile, banking contest, stripped cars only.

BRAVES STILL GAIN ON MCGRAW'S CLUB

World's Series Contests Will Start on Oct. 8; Colts Join Coast Leaguers

New York's failure to win from the Cubs yesterday while the Braves were taking another game from the Pirates practically nailed down the National league coronation for the Boston club. Hank O'Day's team should land third money because of the St. Louis slump, but there is scarcely a chance for McGraw to come through in the stretch. The Giants are now five full games behind the Boston club, which is going along just as smoothly as ever. There is one faint hope for McGraw. Stalling's club plays the remainder of its games on the road and while the team has not shown any semblance of a break, it may slip just enough to allow the Giants to nose through a winner.

Below is given the balance of the National league schedule:

Wednesday, Sept. 23.—St. Louis at New York, Pittsburgh at Brooklyn, Chicago at Philadelphia, Cincinnati at Boston.

Thursday, Sept. 24.—St. Louis at New York, Pittsburgh at Brooklyn, Chicago at Philadelphia, Cincinnati at Boston.

Friday, Sept. 25.—St. Louis at New York, Pittsburgh at Brooklyn, Chicago at Philadelphia, Cincinnati at Boston.

Saturday, Sept. 26.—Pittsburgh at New York, St. Louis at Brooklyn, Chicago at Boston, Cincinnati at Philadelphia.

Sunday, Sept. 27.—No games scheduled.

Monday, Sept. 28.—Pittsburgh at New York, St. Louis at Brooklyn, Chicago at Boston, Cincinnati at Philadelphia.

Tuesday, Sept. 29.—Pittsburgh at New York, St. Louis at Brooklyn, Chicago at Boston, Cincinnati at Philadelphia.

Wednesday, Oct. 7.—Philadelphia at New York, Boston at Brooklyn.

Chicago, Sept. 23.—Play in the world's championship baseball series probably will start on October 8, one day after the American National league seasons are brought to a close, according to President B. B. Johnson of the American league, who is a member of the National Baseball commission.

the world's title, two games will be played consecutively in each city instead of alternating each day, as was the case between New York and Philadelphia. The place for the opening game, it was announced, will be decided by the flip of a coin.

Portland, Sept. 23.—President McCredie announced that all of the players owned by the Ballard club of the Northwestern league had been transferred to the Portland Coast league, and that Secretary Farrell, of the National Association of Minor leagues, had been notified of the change.

STRONGER ELEVEN FOR OPENING GAMES

Sir John Jackson Eleven Meet Thistles; Willow's Soccer Stars Want Games

On Saturday the opening of the Senior Soccer league will bring together two of the strongest teams ever organized in this city, Sir John Jacksons and Thistles. The Jacksons were pressed for a good defence man until this week, when they pilfered Tommy Sherriff from the Thistles, also secured the services of Jimmy Allen, Thistle half-back, and Pete Green, another star half-back. They have also secured the pick of the Sons of England team. The Thistles are greatly strengthened by the disbanding of the champion North Wards, having secured the pick of the blue shirt team—Everett Taylor, back; George Pickering, one of the best forwards in the city; Newlands, defence, and speedy Archie Muir. This is the Jacksons' home game and they will take up a collection, the proceeds to be donated to the patriotic fund. The game will be played on the Beacon Hill grounds.

Jack Youson's Wests are showing wonderful form in their workouts, playing a good defensive game, as well as being strong in the attack. They clash with the J. B. A. A. at Oak Bay Saturday. Youson, despite of the strengthening of the Jacksons and Thistles, is confident his team will win the championship. Little is known of the Bay lineup, but Harry Skuce says he will surprise his wise ones and is not backing in stating that his team would be the pick of the city.

A meeting of the league will be held this evening in the Y. M. C. A. The following schedule has been drawn up:

September 26—Bays vs. Wests; Jacksons vs. Thistles.
October 3—Thistles vs. Bays; Wests vs. Jacksons.
October 10—Bays vs. Jacksons; Thistles vs. Wests.
October 17—Wests vs. Bays; Thistles vs. Jacksons.
October 24—Bays vs. Thistles; Jacksons vs. Wests.
October 31—Jacksons vs. Bays; Wests vs. Thistles.
November 7—Cup ties.
November 14—Cup ties.
November 21—Bays vs. Jacksons; Thistles vs. Wests.
November 28—Wests vs. Bays; Thistles vs. Jacksons.
December 5—Bays vs. Thistles; Jacksons vs. Wests.
December 12—Jacksons vs. Bays; Wests vs. Thistles.
December 19—Cup ties.
December 26—Cup ties.
January 2—Bays vs. Wests; Jacksons vs. Thistles.
January 9—Thistles vs. Bays; Wests vs. Jacksons.

Had the different units at the Willows been aware that their stay there would have been lengthened, they would have entered a combined team of the Highlanders and the B. C. Horse in the Victoria Senior league. If the local "Soccer" league could now arrange to give the soldiers some open date, the men in uniform would appreciate their kindness, and would endeavor to do their utmost to contest a good game with them.

The teams in yesterday's match, which was won by the B. C. Horse 6 to 4, were as follows:

B. C. Horse—Goal, H. Hutchinson; G. L. Mossley and Shakespeare, backs; G. A. Davis, Hudson and H. Truman, halves; C. Drake, Chamberlain, Hines, Pollard and Welsh, forwards.

Highlanders—Goal, Edwards; Cicero and Cole, backs; Wilson, C. J. Bagnall and Nichol, halves; Dunsmuir, centre; Otter and Tyson, right wing; Smithson and Gordon, left wing.

The Sir John Jacksons will take the field as follows on Saturday for their game with the Thistles at Beacon Hill: Goal, Thorburn; backs, A. Kerley and Sherriff; halves, Niven, Blendall and Allen; forwards, F. Kerley, Nichol, Hill, Tunccliffe and Douglas.

London, Sept. 23.—Following are the results of scheduled league football games played Monday on the grounds of the first-mentioned clubs:

First division—Blackburn Rovers 4, Liverpool 2.
Second division—Huddersfield Town 3, Leicester Fosse 1.

MANY BOXERS FOR WAR FUND TOURNEY

Billy Davies, superintendent of the V. I. A. A., is working in earnest to stage an indoor athletic meet in about three weeks' time in aid of the Patriotic fund. All the Vancouver Island club boxers have announced their desire to compete, while Davies also wrote to Seattle and Vancouver to send over representatives to participate. The bill will chiefly consist of boxing, and a tug-of-war and other indoor athletics will be staged.

It is probable that the old Victoria theatre will be rented for the events. The following boxers have consented to participate: Scotty McKay, 145 lbs.; Harry Willis, 145 lbs.; Scott Cropper, 135 lbs.; Jack Larrigan, 135 lbs.; Jack White, 125 lbs.; Donald McKay, 135 lbs., and a number of youngsters at 105 pounds. They are: Eddie Cruise, Willie Sneddon, Guy Martin; Al. Davies will likely be pitted against Earl Baird, of Seattle, at 115 pounds.

TELLS VIVID STORY OF OCEAN TRAGEDY

Dutch Youth, One of Two Survivors of Francis Leggett, Had Harrowing Time

SOME FLOATED ON TIES BUT SUCCUMBED TO COLD

Ship's Whistle Sounded Like Dying Animal Calling for Help; No Panic

Portland, Ore., Sept. 23.—A hundred men passed him without so much as turning to look. Then two newspaper photographers deployed, went up to their necks in their greedy cameras, got his range and snapped him—and at once he became a celebrity. Fifty men hurrying to as many important engagements stopped to find out what it was all about.

The uncomfortable centre of the group was George Poelman, the young Dutch farm hand, who was one of the two survivors of the steamer Francis H. Leggett, which went down off the Oregon coast Friday afternoon.

Poelman was the first of the two picked up by the oil tanker Frank H. Buck. He arrived on the Buck Monday night and was taken to a hotel. Poelman is 23 years old.

His hair is blonde and bristly. He wore the clothes he went overboard in. They bore eloquent evidence of the fuel oil that was pumped overboard from the doomed Leggett in hopes that the waves would be quieted enough thereby to allow the launching of the lifeboats. Poelman had a good deal of trouble telling about the wreck because his English is broken not to say shattered—and his theme is one that would tax the dramatic sense and vocabulary of a veteran sea writer.

"I want to thank the men of the 'Buck' for being so kind to me," he said. "They made me feel like I was in my own home."

He is a son of a farmer who lives in St. Cloud, Alberta.

"My hat was blown or washed away and one of the men gave me this cap. Every few minutes they would come and ask me how I felt as I lay in the bunk. I guess they just want to show how sorry they were for me."

"Putting his cap back on his stiff yellow hair, Poelman started in again on the story of the shipwreck. The main measure of English gave the story a rugged dignity.

Called From His Bunk.

"I didn't know anything was wrong an hour before the boat went down. We had all gone below because great waves were sweeping the deck. I lay in my bunk. The ship was plunging like a crazy horse. One of the crew came and stood in my door.

"Get up," he said, "come on deck. The ship is sinking. It is every man for himself."

"I put on my coat, buckled a life preserver about me and went on deck. There were about 20 or 30 passengers there at the stern. We couldn't get to the main deck in the middle of the boat because the space between was washed by waves as high as our barn and the loosened ties were washing about in the water.

"The boat was leaning over on one side. I held to a rope and looked down through the glass hatch over the dining-room. It was full of water. Tables and chairs were floating about. I saw a dishpan swim in from the galley. Behind it came an old straw hat. I wondered where the hat came from.

"Well, we knew then that she was going down. My partner, Henry von Huizen, hung to the rail beside me. There were two colored women in the crowd on our deck. There was no fighting. Neither of the women cried or said a word. Captain Maro was at the wheel. He told the men to get away a life-boat.

"All around the steamer was much oil. They pumped it over the water so the waves wouldn't break over the little boats so bad. All that time we could feel the jar of the engines. While the men were busy at the boats, the steamer whistled. I don't want ever to hear a sound like that again. It was one long, lonesome blast. It started high and got weaker until it gradually died away as the water put out the fires. It sounded like a dying animal calling for help. The sound of it didn't cheer us up any."

"They told me the boat and the steward told me to get in. The women already were in the boat—they were still silent. But they were holding to the side of the boat so hard that the points of their knuckles showed white. A lot of us got in the boat. But she went up and down so, that I jumped back at my partner's side.

Lifeboat Capsizes.

"They tried again to launch the boat. The two women were still in it. They got away a little piece and the boat turned right over. I saw one of the women come up with oil all over her face and as she wiped it out of her eyes a big wave broke over her and I didn't see her any more. Most of them had on life-preservers and they floated by the boat.

"Then the wind and spray drove into my eyes and when I looked again they had all been swept out of sight by the wind—that is, all but one. He held to a rope on the lifeboat. After a little he lost his hold and disappeared like the others. I didn't hear them cry. I guess they knew there was no use."

"All the time the Leggett was leaning on her side more. We that were left got on the highest rail. My partner was still with me. One side of the ship slanted down to the water because the other side was so low. I saw a man climb down the side and go in through one of the little round windows of the cabin. He must have gone back after something. Anyhow he never came out again.

"Soon after that she went down under us. The stern began to rise in the air and she leaned to the side still further. I got over closer to my partner. I had known him a long time. We liked each other much. I knew it was nearly over and that I ought to say something to him. So I said:

"I don't think we'll ever get out of this, Henry."

"He didn't have time to answer. The stern, where we stood rose into the air and the Leggett slipped under, turning still more on her side as she went. The last I saw of the captain he was standing beside the wheel with some of his men. I didn't see my partner any more.

"I went down a long way, but the life preserver brought me up again. It brought me up on my back. Waves washed over my face and I got myself full of very bitter water. I finally turned over and got on a floating tie. All about men were floating on pieces of wreckage and ties which were being thrashed about and hammered together by the big waves. I got my clothes soaked with the oil on the water, and swallowed a lot of it.

Flashed on Two Ties.

"I left my first tie and got two others. Then I got me a stick. I lay flat on top of the two ties, ran the stick under, grabbed the ends with both hands and held the ties together that way. I floated all right. Not far away four or five men were lying across a half dozen ties. They had got together. But they couldn't hold so many against the waves and they finally separated.

"The wind drove us all apart and I lost sight of the others before dark came on. The last voice I heard sounded like a woman's cry. I heard as I got to the top of a big wave. It was a long wail and was far away. As I slipped down between the two waves, I got fainter and died clear away.

"On two ties, I floated there by myself. The wind cut me like cold steel and rain drove into my eyes in such sheets that I could tell it from the wave wash only by the taste. I was very cold. After I had hung on for what seemed like aged, I saw the lights of a steamer. She would rise until it looked as though she were going half way up into the middle of the sky, and sink down again. That was because I was rising and falling with the big waves. The ship was very far away but I began yelling 'Help!' as loud as I could. The ship was the Buck, and she circled round, and after about half an hour got close to me. I felt something smack me across the forehead of my shoulders, and looked around. The rope they had thrown hit me the first cast. My fingers were numb from the exposure that I couldn't drag myself up alone, and Lars Eskildson, the Buck's quartermaster, jumped overboard to help me. He tied the rope about me and they hauled me on board. He came later himself at the end of another line.

"First they hurried me to the bathroom and then to a warm bunk. I was so numb still that I couldn't move or feel anything. They dried out my clothes and fed me. I want to thank them for the way they treated me."

MASTER IS BLINDED BY LIGHTNING BOLT

Capt. Carlson, of Barquentine Lahaina, Reports Brilliant Electrical Storm

When 200 miles offshore last Thursday night the United States barquentine Lahaina, Capt. Carlson, sailed through a brilliant electrical storm. One particularly bright bolt seemed to break right in the rigging of the vessel and the master, who was pacing the bridge, was blinded for fully ten minutes. Following the lightning a great hail squall came on and stones the size of grapes fell on the vessel's deck.

The Lahaina sailed north from San Francisco and was 16 days making the passage. She dropped anchor in the Royal Roads early on Monday morning, having made her way up the Strait without the assistance of a tow-boat. Yesterday the barquentine was taken in tow by the local tugs, Sadie and Spray, and towed to Vancouver, where she is to load a cargo of lumber at Hastings Mills for the west coast of South America.

Bad Weather All The Way.

Capt. Carlson says that he had bad weather right up the coast, which prolonged the passage. The Lahaina ran into several very severe storms, including a howling southeaster in the vicinity of the Columbia river. The barquentine did not lose any canvas nor suffer any damage aloft through the fact that Capt. Carlson had warning of an approaching gale and was able to get the ship snug before it burst. It had been blowing very hard just before the electrical storm played about the ship last Thursday night. The lightning bolts broke on all sides of the ship and when one flashed in the rigging Capt. Carlson expected to hear something come crashing to the deck. He could not see for the brilliancy of the flash had left him blind. It was ten minutes before he was again capable of discerning things. No damage was sustained by the ship and as soon as the thunder and lightning had passed the hail storm hit the ship. The Lahaina will take three weeks to get her cargo aboard.

Could Have Rescued.

KARLUK'S EXPLORERS

Polar Bear Passed Wrangel Island but Thought Men Had Been Saved

Nome, Alaska, Sept. 23.—The power-schooner Polar Bear, Capt. Louis Lane, which left Seattle April 3, 1913, with a party of scientists and hunters, and which was frozen in the Arctic near Flaxman Island last winter, arrived yesterday from the Arctic ocean by way of Siberia. Most of the hunters and collectors left the schooner last winter and made their way to Alaska via the coast, taking steamers to Seattle. However, Samuel J. Mixer, of Boston, representing the Smithsonian institute, and George S. Silsbee, and John Heard, Jr., both of Boston, sportsmen, remained with the boat all the time and grived here with her. Capt. Lane retraced his steps overland to the Polar Bear last spring and resumed command of her.

Capt. Lane, who has had many years' experience with the Arctic ice, gives it as his opinion that Villajalmir Stefansson and his two companions, who left Martin Point March 22, heading north over the ice in search of new lands, will never be heard from again. In his voyage along the Alaska and Siberian coasts, Lane kept a lookout for signs that Stefansson and his companions might have built, but found no trace of the missing explorers.

The Polar Bear was off Wrangel Island before the Karluk survivors had been taken off by the schooner King and Winge. There was open water clear to the island at one place, and Capt. Lane could have landed easily, but this open water made him feel sure that some other boat had preceded him and taken the men away. The Polar Bear sighted the King and Winge south of Herald Island hunting walrus.

The Boston men will leave for Seattle by passenger steamer in a few days. They say they enjoyed the winter in the ice. The Stefansson boats were frozen in only 60 miles away, and the explorers visited one another. The Polar Bear took ten large whales during her cruise.

HALIBUT BRINGS SIX CENTS.

Seattle, Sept. 23.—Two halibut schooners arriving on Monday from the Alaskan banks, sold their catches for 6 cents for the No. 1 halibut, while a third with a mixed catch of halibut and black cod sold for 6 cents. The boats selling for 6 cents were the Liberty, with 70,000 pounds of halibut, and the Olympic with 60,000 pounds. The third boat, the Atlantic, had 20,000 pounds of halibut and black cod.

STATIONS AT CANAL WHICH IS DUE TO-DAY

Balboa and Colon to Have Modern Instruments for Commercial Purposes

As a part of the equipment of the Panama canal, new and larger radio stations are being constructed at Colon and Balboa to supplant the present stations in communicating with commercial vessels within a normal operating radius of 500 miles from the canal. Their service will be similar to that of the present stations, but will exceed in area the present 300-mile daytime range of the present station at Colon, and the 200-mile daytime range of the Balboa station. The Colon station will be equipped with two interchangeable sets, the smaller to be used regularly for local work, and the larger to be switched in for further communication when desired. The large set will be capable of communicating as far as Key West, and may thus be substituted for the Darien high-power station in communicating with the United States, if the need arises. The larger set at Colon will use the equipment of the present station.

The Colon and the Balboa radio services, while primarily for naval and military work in connection with the Panama canal, and secondarily for shipping, will be used for all official communication with ships approaching or departing from the canal, or in transit through the canal. They will be opened, as the present stations are, to commercial service, under restrictions subordinating this use to government needs and under the further restriction, such as, for example, the ruling that government radio services may not be used for commercial messages between points in connection with privately owned submarine cable or overland wire service. The Colon and Balboa services will, further, be distinct from the service of the high-power station at Darien, which will be used, except in case of emergency, for official business, communicating direct with the Arlington station near Washington, and relaying messages to government ships within a nominal radius of 3,000 miles of the Isthmus.

CHANGE NAME TO OCEANIC.

New York, Sept. 23.—It is understood that the directors of the International Mercantile Marine company have decided to change the name of the new liner now under construction at Belfast from Germanic to Oceanic. Although the old steamship Germanic was for many years a favorite with travellers on the Atlantic, in view of the feeling aroused in Great Britain by the war, it is considered inadvisable to have a steamer under the British flag called Germanic sailing out of Liverpool.

The recent loss of the second Oceanic off the north coast of Scotland gives the directors the opportunity to hand down the name to a third liner. She is expected to be launched at Belfast next March.

It is curious to note the old sea-margins of human thought! Each subsiding century reveals some new mystery; we build where monsters used to hide themselves—Longfellow.

NO WORD FROM NATAL

Although the East Asiatic steamship Natal, Capt. Dahl, was due in port this morning and shipping men have been looking for her all day, no word had been received up to 2 o'clock this afternoon of her passing Tatoosh. The vessel was reported in a telegram received on Monday to have left San Francisco at noon on Sunday, and under ordinary weather conditions she should make the run in little less than three days. It is possible that she may have been forced to battle with strong southeast gales, suffering a delay.

The Natal is the first ship of the East Asiatic company to call at Victoria. The agents have been informed that she has 400 tons of general freight to discharge at this port. The Natal comes from Antwerp, via British ports, San Pedro and San Francisco.

Sado Due To-morrow.

To-morrow the Nippon Yusen Kaisha liner Sado Maru, Capt. Asakawa, is expected in from Oriental ports. Her master did not report by wireless last night. It is believed that the Sado will be off William Head in the forenoon to-morrow. The Sado has a big list of passengers for Victoria and 600 tons of general merchandise. She carries a heavy shipment of silk from New York, and her holds are full of cargo consigned to Seattle and overland points.

Makura In On Friday.

The Canadian-Australian liner Makura, Capt. Phillips, is scheduled to reach Victoria to-morrow morning from Sydney, N. S. W.; Auckland, N. Z.; Suva and Honolulu, but it is understood that she is running one day late owing to a circuitous route which she took getting to Honolulu in order to escape an encounter with a German cruiser. She is not looked for before Friday, although it is quite possible that during the last leg of the voyage she has been able to pick up a little speed, in which case she may slip in to William Head before sundown to-morrow.

Touching southeastern Alaska points, then westward to Prince William Sound and to Bristol Bay, and out into the Behring Sea where the Pribyloffs are situated.

MEMBERS ARE AT WORK

Industrial Committee of Victoria and Island Development Association Appoints Sub-Committees.

Several sub-committees were appointed by the industrial committee of the Victoria and Island Development association at its inaugural meeting yesterday afternoon.

H. F. Bullen presided and the following sub-committees were named: Prize essay competition for children, R. W. Douglas and J. C. Pendray.

Transportation committee, to interview the railway companies with a view to securing a week-end rate extending from Friday to Monday: H. B. Thomson, M. P. P.; J. L. Hunter and J. C. Pendray.

Committee to arouse interest of women and other organizations in the movement to increase the purchasing of locally-made goods: J. L. Beckwith and H. B. Thomson, M. P. P.

The chairman of the industrial committee, which included several citizens in addition to the members appointed by the development association, pointed out how necessary it was for the citizens to support Victoria manufacturers. Such support was the best means of inducing others to join the community. It was decided to ask the retail merchants to make a special endeavor to sell Victoria-made goods, particularly on the first and third Fridays in each month, as Friday was the day of the weekly city market.

As a future project it was proposed that the committee should organize a made-in-Victoria exhibition to be held possibly at the Willows. Patriotic features and an admission fee were suggested, the sum realized to be turned over to the patriotic fund.

The committee determined on a vigorous programme, the purpose of which will be to advance the various objects and co-operate with bodies anxious to increase the production and sale of goods made in Victoria.

PLANS FOR WORK

Committee Discusses What Will Be Asked of Province and City.

The committee on unemployment, after waiting upon the city council on Monday, had a lengthy session at which plans of action were discussed respecting what should be asked of the provincial and municipal authorities in the matter of furnishing employment for those who are out of work. The city council is to be seen again, and although the contracts for the erection of the city jail have been awarded, another effort will be made by the committee to have the decision reconsidered, with the object of having the work done by day labor. It is explained to-day by the committee that it would not have waited upon the council on Monday, but for the jail contracts coming up, as its case is not ready on the general case of unemployment.

In reference to the proposal made in some quarters that the province be asked to enact a moratorium law, especially as to payments on property, it was decided by the committee members that this would not afford any relief to unemployment on the whole. At the same time it desired it to be understood by workingmen who may find it hard to meet payments on agreements of sale that while they do not favor this step they recognize the danger in some cases, and they ask that if any workingman finds any difficulty in meeting his payments or foreclosure is threatened the matter be brought to the attention of the trade and labor council, which will use its influence towards assisting the parties.

Will Interview Government—The committee of the Trades and Labor council which will meet the premier and members of the government with regard to public works in this district has received an appointment for tomorrow evening.

Saatchi Taxes—The last day on which the rebate on the taxes in Saatchi municipality can be secured will be to-day week. After that date the council will know approximately what money will be available for public works for the balance of the year.

FACTORIES REMAIN OPEN THROUGH WAR

H. L. Salmon Speaks of Splendid Attitude of British People in Crisis

"I don't think I saw a single factory shut down in England. All the big industries are running, some on half and some on three-quarter time. The press appeared to recommend this almost as a unit from the start, and the industries fell in line. As a result there is very little distress, although of course as the war is prolonged this will become evident more and more."

Such was the statement of H. L. Salmon, the well-known Victoria merchant, who has just returned from a five months' visit in the British Isles and on the continent. He left for home on September 7. The above conditions he believes to be a reason to Canada.

"The attitude of the people was superb and stirred my blood. There was no flag-waving; nothing but a cool resolution which did not for a minute underestimate the proposition. There was a hearty appreciation of Canadian efforts in the gift of men, food and other materials necessary in this distressing time. The British people hold a high opinion of Canadians as a race, and everywhere showed me personally the greatest hospitality."

"One thing the people seem to feel in regard to Canada, and that is that we should seize every opportunity to take up the industrial mantle which has fallen from Germany's shoulders. Canada can manufacture many things and should not fail to seize the opportunity now presenting itself of capturing the immense trade which Germany must of necessity lose. The most patriotic thing over governments can do is to develop manufacturing and thereby care for the future of our population."

Mr. Salmon also spoke of his visit to Kew Gardens, and of arrangements he made with the Natural History society to send plants and seeds of cowslip, primroses and other wild flowers to Vancouver Island, where conditions are ideally suited to their growth and rapid spread. He visited the offices of the Navy league, of which he is a member, and was glad to see that the opinion was held that the league had proved of value in strengthening the first line of defence.

The story told by Bram Singh is as follows: He saw a friend of his on the midnight boat and they came slowly back into town to look for a room in which to spend the night. His steps led him to Chinatown and there he met the younger of the two accused. Dock, and asked him to show him a room. This was in Herald street, above Government about 2 o'clock in the morning. Dock then led him to a white and came back to show him a room. They went together to an alley which goes from the Hart block on Herald street right through to Fildard street. About 30 feet along Dock and another Chinaman set upon him, Dock taking out a long piece of whipcord and flung it round the victim's neck.

After alleged assault and the victim was charged with robbery with violence, pleaded not guilty, and was later released on bail of $1,000 apiece. W. C. Moresby will appear for the prisoners at the trial to-morrow morning.

MANY PRESENT AT CHURCH ANNIVERSARY

Pleasant Event at Esquimalt Methodist Church; J. R. Cowell's Address

Although not intended as a patriotic meeting, the anniversary celebrations held on Monday evening by the Esquimalt Methodist church almost partook of this character owing to the loyal enthusiasm aroused by J. R. Cowell's exceptionally clever address on "Times and Lessons." The speaker, who gave an able survey of the great situation which has involved practically all Europe in war, caused great enthusiasm by his appeal to the patriotism of the audience, and at the close of his address, on motion of Messrs. McAdam and Smallwood, was accorded a very warm vote of thanks.

The subject was dealt with in three periods: Before the war; during the war; and after the war. Dealing with the question in its broader light, Mr. Cowell first interpreted the causes of the war, and then, referring to the conditions in Canada during the past two or three years, spoke of the evil effect of such a real estate boom as that which swept across the west during 1911 and 1912. Land was never worth more than it could produce, and the exaggerated values which had been reached could not be other than detrimental to the country at large. Canada had over-borrowed before the war, especially the west, and had gone beyond her powers for immediate payment. Financial depression had followed; then had come the war.

The solemn nature of an international or other treaty was also referred to, and the speaker explained the enormity of the wrong committed by anyone who lightly broke a pledge so made. Moral obligation must be the fate of such a man. To speak flippantly of "scrap paper" was to deny the meaning of practically all the great bonds entered into by nations or their individuals, nearly every one of which were recorded on "scrap of paper."

As to the outcome of the war, there would be a great weakening of autocracy, and a strengthening of the movement toward the democratizing of the world.

The other part of the anniversary celebration passed off in the most enjoyable manner, about 150 members of the congregation and their friends from the well-appointed supper served by the Ladies' Aid society of the church and a succession of brief addresses being delivered by others of the visitors present. Among these were Rev. Thomas Green, of the Centennial Methodist church; Rev. S. J. Thompson, of Wesley church; and Rev. R. Wilkinson, chairman of the Victoria district.

Rev. Thomas Keyworth, pastor of the Esquimalt Methodist church, presided, and gave a brief resume of the history of the congregation and church, and F. R. Wright, speaking for the board of trustees, extended a cordial welcome to the visitors present from other congregations of the city.

An excellent musical programme was interspersed among the addresses, among those who took part being Messrs. Wood and Large, who sang; the Misses Morrison and Davis, who also contributed vocal solos; Mr. Young, who played the cornet; and Mr. Daniels, who contributed some violin selections.

CASES FOR ASSIZES

Missing Ring Case With Interesting Chain of Evidence to Be Tried by Jury

Among the cases coming up at the assizes on October 5 are the charges against B. von Dusen, A. Palmer and Julius Gaffey. H. W. R. Moore, the prosecutor, is now engaged in preparing the cases against these men.

Von Dusen is charged with obtaining $50 on a forged draught on the Valentine Clock Company of St. Paul. The informant, W. W. Steinmetz, stated that he endorsed the draught on Von Dusen's representation that he worked for the Clock Company. The draught was cashed at the Merchants' Bank and Mr. Steinmetz was compelled to pay the $50. Von Dusen is the man who recently created a sensation by escaping from the city lock-up.

Palmer is the man who was arrested on a chain of evidence which went from Victoria to Spokane and back in connection with the disappearance of five rings belonging to Mrs. Gertrude McAdam, of Linden avenue. He is charged with having possession of two of them knowing them to have been stolen.

The five were valued by Mrs. McAdam at $2,500. They were lost together in a small box from the pocket of Dr. Jones during a performance at the Empress Theatre in May, 1913. A few weeks ago the Spokane chief of police wrote Mrs. McAdam that he had some evidence. As a result a Mr. and Mrs. Clark of Spokane were arrested in Spokane charged with taking two of the stolen rings into the United States.

The evidence was that of a Mrs. Fennern who stated that she had found them in Victoria and waited for an advertisement of the reward. She and her husband stated that they sold the rings to the various accused after informing them of all the circumstances.

Julius Gaffey, keeper of the junk business at 421 Store street, is charged with trading in bottles bearing the trademark of the Victoria Phoenix Brewing Company without the consent of the company. The evidence is to the effect that over 2,000 of them were found on his place of business which goes under the name of the Great Western Junk Company.

MANY MEETINGS WILL ENGAGE THE ALDERMEN

Paving Committee to Settle Down to Work Friday; Court of Revision

The committee appointed some weeks ago by the city council to draft a paving programme for the council of 1915 will hold its first meeting on Friday morning. It is composed of three aldermen and the city engineer and was named by the council, on the suggestion of Alderman Todd, to determine the best course to be adopted and to indicate to the present council what work should be left in the form of recommendations for the next council. As the plan is now on order the city council next spring will have a paving plan of its own and there will no longer be complications on contracts such as have caused trouble since asphalt paving began three or four years ago. The entire program will be reported to the council on Monday week, the date set in the formal resolution.

Prior to the meeting of the streets committee of the council on Friday afternoon, there will be a conference between members of the health committee and the bacteriologists in connection with the liquor licence by-law, one of the provisions of which is to set up a licensing system for bartenders.

To-morrow morning the adjourned court of revision on the assessment by-law for a portion of Fairfield road from St. Charles street to Fowl Bay road will be held. This is a case where the owners protested against the cost of the work assessed, the matter being laid over for the engineering department to make a report on the matter. The Deuman street assessment will not be taken up for some time as new notices have to be issued.

To-morrow afternoon the Johnson street bridge committee will meet to consider details of the Canadian Pacific and B. C. Electric Railways agreement. Alderman O'Keefe, the chairman, is confident that the remaining difficulties can be smoothed out in time to have the by-law before the people in January next.

There was a meeting of the committee which is dealing with the matter of street ends this afternoon, an application of James Leigh & Sons for water frontage at their mills being considered. The matter has been waiting some time for decision.

There is a heavy programme before the aldermen this week, as some matters laid over from Monday's session are to be taken up at the streets committee's session to-morrow.

The report of the civic investigation committee, which was set out in yesterday's Times, continues to be the principal topic of conversation at the city hall. Regret is expressed on all sides that the force of circumstances should compel the committee to recommend decreases of staff, as for instance in the plumbing department, which has made a revenue in the past few years and is now only falling short of keeping its receipts up to the usual standard. With regard to the recommendation in the report that the school board's custom of giving automatic increases should be temporarily abandoned, the board officials point out that the board has already ceased giving increases, none having been given since the spring. The board, of course, will not admit that the council has any power over its financial arrangements, although this year estimates were reduced in order that the school rate would not advance with other charges.

CHARGE DISMISSED

Prosecution Fails in Effort to Convict Lessee of Lincoln Hotel of Selling Liquor Without Licence.

"There would be no justice in my sending a man to jail for six months for doing something which the mayor and licence commissioners gave him permission to do," said Magistrate Jay this morning to F. A. McDiarmid, who appeared for the creditors of the Lincoln Hotel, prosecuting a charge against John Fisher, T. N. Miller appeared for the defence and the charge was dismissed.

It appears that the defendant conducts the business of the Lincoln Hotel under the aegis of what counsel called "a scrap of paper" granted to him by the mayor in the form of a temporary permit.

F. A. McDiarmid contended that this paper was not of any value since the licence commissioners had not the power to authorize the transfer of the licence, which brought forth the comment from Magistrate Jay that the prosecuting counsel was evidently endeavoring to make the court one of appeal from the licence commissioners.

Evidence by Peter Gardner, clerk of the licensing commissioners, showed that the subject of the Lincoln Hotel licence came before the board on June 10, at which date the commissioners authorized the extension of the permit to the next meeting. The parties were at that time advised to get together and settle it up. On Sept. 9 the tem-

PORTLAND SELLS AT

YESTERDAY'S PRICE

Quiet Feeling on Local Stock
Exchange; B. C. Copper
Offers Up

Victoria, Sept. 23.—Quotations ruled quietly on the local exchange this morning. Portland sold at yesterday's price, but was subject to slight softening at the last, when it closed at $2.40.

Offers of B. C. Copper were higher, action in outside markets basking in a strengthening tone.

All issues are assuming a more normal condition now that the minor exchanges are reopening. With the resumption of ordinary business in the different central markets a broadening in all prices is looked for.

Saanich Council Decides to Offer Debentures in City Under By-Laws Just Passed.

At the meeting of the Saanich council last evening when the final reading was given to the three by-laws for waterworks, water purchase and paving, the question arose as to what steps could be taken to commence work under the measures.

One suggestion was that an advertisement be run inviting citizens to take $100 debentures, this low denomination of debentures having been adopted to induce the citizens to purchase the securities as $1,000 bonds are always sold outside the city to people who have no direct interest in the community. Another suggestion, which has received the consideration of the council for some time, is the possibility of paying contractors with bonds for some of the paving work. An offer to accept such payment for the starting of a small amount of work has already been received.

A deputation from the Trades and Labor council waited on the council to urge the necessity of providing for the unemployed in the municipality. While no definite promise was made to the deputation, the representations were promised attention. One of the proposals was that those out of work be allowed to cut wood from trees at points on the public highways where the right-of-way is wooded and that they be permitted to sell the fuel they cut.

The council decided to reduce the license fees for businesses which operated in the municipality but had their quarters outside the district to $10 half-yearly.

Reeve McGregor and Councilor Grant were appointed to represent the Saanich council at the annual convention of the Union of B. C. municipalities at Kamloops on October 22 and 23.

Skin Trouble on the Scalp

Skin Dried and Cracked and Hair Fell Out—Cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Eczema is annoying and distressing at any time, but doubly so when it gets into the scalp and causes the hair to fall out. Here is a grateful letter from a lady who was cured by using Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Mrs. Hector Currie, Tobermory, Ont., writes: "I was cured of a disagreeable skin disease of the scalp by using Dr. Chase's Ointment. The trouble started with itching and pain in the scalp, the skin would get dry and crack, and at times would bleed, and the hair would fall out. I tried three doctors without benefit, and suffered for three years. Reading in the Almanac about Dr. Chase's Ointment, I began its use, and am now completely cured. The hair has grown again, and I am as well as I ever was. You are at liberty to use this letter, for I am glad to recommend so excellent a treatment."

Dr. Chase's Ointment has no rival as a cure for itching skin disease.
